We need a better strategy for poor people...because what we're doing isn't working.

~Mick Cornett

We had a branding problem. We have allowed ourselves to be branded by our tragedies. If you said 'Oklahoma City,' chances are the next word out of your mouth was 'bombing.'

~Mick Cornett

Donald Trump is in a partisan election, so he views the role differently than Mitch Landrieu and I who are trying to lead our cities in a bipartisan or nonpartisan manner.

~Mick Cornett

It is not OK for anyone to be obese. There needs to be a cultural shift.

~Mick Cornett

When you have a lot of construction going on, it sends a message of vitality that builds up consumer confidence. It gets people to spend money when they see that energy, that things are happening.

~Mick Cornett

Jobs follow people. People don't follow jobs.

~Mick Cornett

The spoiled superstar brat wouldn't get far in Oklahoma City. We're very value-conscious. Our city was settled in a land run. Those 10,000 people were desperate for a better life.

~Mick Cornett

If your city's being populated by highly educated twentysomethings with choices, you're probably going to succeed.

~Mick Cornett

People in Oklahoma don't wake up every morning wondering what the government is going to do for them.

~Mick Cornett

People look for their leadership to lead.

~Mick Cornett

I'd rather we were rebuilding Philadelphia, as opposed to Kabul...There are American cities with serious infrastructure problems and we're not addressing them.
