If a person wants to be atheistic it's his God-given right to be an atheist.

~Mike Patton

Quantitative methods are no more synonymous with objectivity than qualitative methods are synonymous with subjectivity.

~Mike Patton

We just wanna be the happy bums that we are. That's all.

~Mike Patton

That's one of the great things about touring. It makes you machinelike in a way that you can re-create this music not only in the right way but even better than when it was conceived.

~Mike Patton

Any idiot, any stockbroker can get out there and live out a fantasy and pretend like he's playing music. And I don't think there's anything wrong with that.

~Mike Patton

When you start to kind of immerse yourself in that improvisation culture, you gotta be comfortable enough with your instrument to throw yourself into a really potentially dangerous situation.

~Mike Patton

Diamanda GalÃ¡s, the avant-weird performance artist... 'The devil's wife,' someone calls her. Faith No More loves Diamanda GalÃ¡s.

~Mike Patton

If someone were to hire me for a film they'd be getting a certain kind of package, that's for sure, a certain set of tools. But I would listen to the director.

~Mike Patton

Stan Slaughter is the thoroughbred of the environmental educators I've hired. Second place is not even close.

~Mike Patton

I guess I'm getting to the age where a lot of other people my age have real jobs, and when they're hard-up they refer to an old-timer like me.

~Mike Patton

I am no one to be a purist.
