I am not inspired by helping you find Chinese food at 2am in Dallas, or swipe right to get laid. I want to use tech and data to make the world a better place.

~Nancy Lublin

When I have a bad day, I dream about opening up a gelato stand on the streets of Sydney, Australia. Doesn't everyone have a random escape fantasy?

~Nancy Lublin

Do-gooders are easily overlooked. We're supposed to be soft, touchy-feely types, who wear Birkenstocks, compost everything, and write poetry by candlelight.

~Nancy Lublin

Entrepreneurship is the very back bone of our country and what makes us great - we are a nation of founders.

~Nancy Lublin

I believe in helping young people rock causes they care about because I was one of those young people... a long time ago.

~Nancy Lublin

We're finding [texting] 11 times more powerful than email [for communicating with kids].

~Nancy Lublin

Social change isn't something you should do just to help pad a resume. Follow your passion.

~Nancy Lublin

Simply, I believe the United States should lower the voting age to 17.

~Nancy Lublin

Teens look at cause-related efforts with some scrutiny. They know they are often a target market, but it has to make sense to them.

~Nancy Lublin

Many think kids have lots of time and few responsibilities. And that's just not true. They are stressed and under pressure.

~Nancy Lublin

Commit yourself to an organization or cause that genuinely fires you up.

~Nancy Lublin

I kind of think I have the best job in America. I work with amazing people who challenge me daily. My job as a member of DoSomething.org is never boring. I'm constantly learning. And we laugh a lot.

~Nancy Lublin

I'm an entrepreneur. I'm married to an entrepreneur. So I haven't just sipped the entrepreneurship cool-aid, I bleed this stuff.

~Nancy Lublin

Picking and choosing what kind of love is worth recognizing is an expensive choice. Is discrimination worth that price?

~Nancy Lublin

For a long time, the for-profit world has told us in the not-for-profit sector to behave more like businesses.

~Nancy Lublin

I love an underdog. No, I don't necessarily mean the cartoon. I mean like David, as in Goliath, or the Bears, as in The Bad News Bears.

~Nancy Lublin

My red patent-leather, 5-inch peep-toe slingbacks are not mere shoes. They are fine art. They make me feel tall. They make me feel sexy. They make me feel powerful. I call them my 'special-day shoes.'

~Nancy Lublin

The parents in the room know that texting is actually the best way to communicate with your kids. It might be the only way to communicate with your kids.
