Scientists have discovered that the small, brave act of cooperating with another person, of choosing trust over cynicism, generosity over selfishness, makes the brain light up with quiet joy.

~Natalie Angier

I may not believe in life after death, but what a gift it is to be alive now.

~Natalie Angier

The beauty of the natural world lies in the details.

~Natalie Angier

We are made of stardust; why not take a few moments to look up at the family album?

~Natalie Angier

The surest and most insidious enemy of freedom is not dictatorship, but complacency.

~Natalie Angier

I'm an Atheist. I don't believe in God, Gods, Godlets or any sort of higher power beyond the universe itself, which seems quite high and powerful enough to me.

~Natalie Angier

Surveys show that surveys never lie.

~Natalie Angier

Eternal love is a myth, but we make our myths, and we love them to death.

~Natalie Angier

scientists ... resist ... making more of the data than the data make of themselves.

~Natalie Angier

Who needs a handgun when you've got a semiautomatic?

~Natalie Angier

Perhaps eggs are like neurons, which also are not replenished in adulthood: they know too much. Eggs must plan the party. Sperm need only to show up- wearing top hat and tails, of course.
