

Natasha Lyonne

Quotes

People, Thinking, Trying, Black, Ideas, Looks, Way, World, Real, Heart, Book, Actresses, School, Hair, Life Is, Laughing, Would Be, Self, Needs, Young

Life is not for the faint of heart.

~Natasha Lyonne

I have a theory that self-made, first-generation actresses don't feel entitled to success.

~Natasha Lyonne

I definitely would rather take a nap than get angry.

~Natasha Lyonne

In my experience of living, for a time, in the underbelly of society, I spent a lot of time in various holding cells.

~Natasha Lyonne

It's a wild thing, that people have the ability to help each other by just relating to one another.

~Natasha Lyonne

I have a deep compassion for the idea that it's okay to be myself. The idea that anything 'other' is bad and wrong and broken is so wildly off base.

~Natasha Lyonne

Remember when we didn't live in the future? When we were young, it was not the future yet.

~Natasha Lyonne

Life is a wildly transient thing with people coming into your life and dropping away. It definitely takes work to maintain relationships.

~Natasha Lyonne

Beauty was never really my trip. Maybe those roles are attracted to me?

~Natasha Lyonne

I adore Eddie Kaye Thomas and Jason Biggs. Eddie was the only one who called me when they were doing 'American Reunion' and told me, 'You need to do this.'

~Natasha Lyonne

Sometimes the things that come out of my mouth are mortifying.

~Natasha Lyonne

Existence itself is disconcerting and disorienting.

~Natasha Lyonne

The person sending ironic text messages has no idea that their voice does not sound so great in text. There's no dry sense of humor in a text. It comes off as a little bit shitty.

~Natasha Lyonne

Let's face it. I'm an open book.

~Natasha Lyonne

You compare yourself to somebody who you think is a peer, and you can totally lose the plot, and not understand that you are nothing like them in the first place, and it was never you versus anybody.

~Natasha Lyonne

I am a hooker with a heart of gold.

~Natasha Lyonne

I'm a movie star. Can I talk to my entertainment lawyer?

~Natasha Lyonne

I learned that if you're going to be a troublemaker, you don't want a ton of witnesses, because there's inevitable fallout from living like you're in 'Lord of the Flies.'

~Natasha Lyonne

I'm a text artist. It's an unsung art form because it's so ahead of its time.

~Natasha Lyonne

I was this kid who had been raised in New York, and now all of a sudden, my mother decided that she was a Jewish divorcee and therefore she should be living in Miami Beach.

~Natasha Lyonne

There are epic downsides to living a somewhat public life. The upshot of that is there's nothing to hide. It's a relief in a way. There's nothing about me that can't be said.

~Natasha Lyonne

Rather than spend so much time wondering if I'm going to get hired, or is it a problem that I've got this black-tar history, I've just got to keep doing what I'm doing and try to be decent.

~Natasha Lyonne

It's not easy trying to navigate your internal world in the public eye.

~Natasha Lyonne

I started wearing all black around the time I got into Nirvana. I first heard 'Smells Like Teen Spirit' when I was about 12, and I remember jumping on my bed, so excited about it.

~Natasha Lyonne

As a rule people don't think other people on drugs are funny. They think they are tragic. They have a point, but I still had the funny.

~Natasha Lyonne

The aging process is totally minimizing. Life in general is pretty minimizing because you have a lot of big ideas, and you have to battle the mistaken delusions and instability that come with youth.

~Natasha Lyonne

It's such a weird thing: to sit and look at yourself is so distracting to the psyche. It would be like me standing in front of a mirror and looking at myself all day, trying to find a flaw.

~Natasha Lyonne

I don't really feel like I need to be a teenager ever again.

~Natasha Lyonne

I have a television, but it's not connected to anything. I watch everything on my computer.

~Natasha Lyonne

My car is always black. I really struggle with red cars. I don't want to attract too much cop attention.

~Natasha Lyonne

My hair is such a statement that it's like a neon sign asking for trouble.

~Natasha Lyonne

There's that special magical place that exists when you forget everything else because you are laughing hysterically. It's the only truly safe place and it can happen with a stranger or a best friend.

~Natasha Lyonne

I always see the absurdity in most situations. It's my experience of how life works.

~Natasha Lyonne

Over time, you realize that even the things that are most high stakes kind of resolve themselves.

~Natasha Lyonne

I'm really enjoying growing up. I feel like so much of my life was in an existential crisis when I was young, and I don't feel as bogged down by that anymore.

~Natasha Lyonne

I'm somebody who believes in funny things, and laughing, but I do like for them to come from a place that addresses the human condition.

~Natasha Lyonne

As wild as I was, when the cops show up, and suddenly you're being handcuffed, it's so deeply shocking and terrifying, the loss of freedom.

~Natasha Lyonne

I would love to option 'Crying of Lot 49 and turn it into a movie.

~Natasha Lyonne

I'd love to go to school, but every time I try I get a movie. That's actually how I get work: I enroll. That's like my good luck charm.

~Natasha Lyonne

I grew up in Manhattan, and I've always had all kinds of people around me. I've always had a very 'live and let live' point of view.

~Natasha Lyonne

No, but it is something I really enjoy speaking about. You've got to do something with all the books you've read, so you might as well imagine you've optioned them.

~Natasha Lyonne

The interesting trick of comedy, in a lot of ways, is to have both the comedy and the grounding of the real thing. You get a real sense of a human being.

~Natasha Lyonne

The world at large doesn't always make sense to me, and there are safe havens. Linda Manz in 'Out of the Blue' is one of them.

~Natasha Lyonne

I'm not someone who went to acting school - I was just out of the gate, doing it.

~Natasha Lyonne

There's something great about all your worst fears coming true and being said about you. There's a tremendous liberation on some level.

~Natasha Lyonne

As a woman, I've learned that having a uniform of your staples or setting your look and saying what distinguishes you - like red lips or hair or whatever - leaves so much time for the rest of the day.

~Natasha Lyonne

I will take the subway and look at certain women and think 'God, that woman's story will never be told. How come that lady doesn't get a movie about her?'

~Natasha Lyonne

I just never get into trouble. It's not my thing.

~Natasha Lyonne

That's usually how I get to know strangers - get inappropriately touchy. Once they've experienced the awkwardness of you being way too close for comfort, after that, it all gets easy.

~Natasha Lyonne

I have a pretty fancy facialist, this woman Dale Breault. Getting older, it's a good thing to have a serious facialist.

~Natasha Lyonne

Your trade becomes very much impacted by the quality of your life experiences and your capacity to process them.

~Natasha Lyonne

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Trying Quotes
- Black Quotes
- Ideas Quotes
- Looks Quotes
- Way Quotes
- World Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Heart Quotes
- Book Quotes
- Actresses Quotes
- School Quotes
- Hair Quotes
- Life Is Quotes
- Laughing Quotes
- Would Be Quotes
- Self Quotes
- Needs Quotes
- Young Quotes