Service is the rent we pay for the privilege of living on this earth.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Self-discipline is doing what you know you should do when you don't want to do it.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Freedom is based on truth, and no man is completely free as long as any part of his belief is based on error.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

As we express our appreciation of our many blessings, we become more conscious of what the Lord has done for us, and thereby we become more appreciative

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

...The only slogan we need in order to be happy in our home is: Love Each Other -three simple words. Apply the ingredients of love. Sacrifice for each other. Make each other happy.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

It is easy to do things for our own families and loved ones, but to give of our substance for the stranger who is in need is the real test of our charity and love for our fellowmen.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

It is too late if we wait until the moment of temptation before making our decision.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Let us look for the good rather than try to discover any hidden evil. We can easily find fault in others if that is what we are looking for.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

There is no real happiness in having or getting, but only in giving.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, said that whenever he could not see his way clearly, he knelt down and prayed for light and understanding.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Integrity, or the lack of it, touches almost every facet of our lives-everything we say, every thought and desire.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Improper parental example in the home is a leading cause of the wandering of youth.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

To be healthy and happy, a person must live a life that includes a good variety of activities.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

It is our duty to save the world. That is our mission, insofar as they will listen unto us and receive our testimony.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Gossip is the worst form of judging.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

An honest, sincerely stated compliment helps to build character; criticism destroys it.

~Nathan Eldon Tanner

Start right now to put into practice some of the things that have been taught to us today.
