Older women know who they are, and that makes them more beautiful than younger ones. I like to see a face with some character. I want to see lines. I want to see wrinkles.

~Naveen Andrews

Just because I never went to university doesn't mean you can't read, although I do feel a bit uneducated from time to time.

~Naveen Andrews

I think that reality TV is so bad. It is a tool by the media to not make people think.

~Naveen Andrews

My mum made a conscious decision not to teach me any Indian languages so I wouldn't talk with an accent.

~Naveen Andrews

I was always in trouble from an early age. I had a fraught relationship with my parents, who were very traditional. Doing plays at school was a joyous release.

~Naveen Andrews

I'm not an academic, but I've always loved poetry since I've been small.

~Naveen Andrews

If you don't take the chance to live life, what can you say at the end of it?

~Naveen Andrews

The unknown is always frightening.

~Naveen Andrews

A slice of hot, buttered toast is the perfect meal. It's not too much and not too little, and it gives you just the right buzz.

~Naveen Andrews

We emphasize our differences by nationality, race and financially. [...] It's our common humanity that defines us.

~Naveen Andrews

People have souls, and we all accept that cities have souls, too. It's why the locations are so important.

~Naveen Andrews

I think I may have failed at a lot of things, but the one thing I can say, and that I'm proud of, is that I am a good parent.

~Naveen Andrews

I think any actor should be aware of where they're starting to stretch into what's not truthful.

~Naveen Andrews

Lets just say I was really bad. Now I have grown into myself. I have changed.

~Naveen Andrews

The older I get, the more I'm prepared to do things for the money.

~Naveen Andrews

I've always liked women who are older. They seem to know who they are, and they've lived. They've got soul, and that's very attractive.

~Naveen Andrews

Los Angeles is the only place that I can honestly say I have ever called home.

~Naveen Andrews

I never felt at home in London, because people were constantly telling me I didn't belong here, so after a while, you tend to believe that.

~Naveen Andrews

Only when I came to America did I think of myself as British.
