Neuroplasticity research showed that the brain changes its very structure with each different activity it performs, perfecting its circuits so it is better suited to the task at hand.

~Naveen Jain

Great entrepreneurs focus intensely on an opportunity where others see nothing.

~Naveen Jain

Success doesn't necessarily come from breakthrough innovation but from flawless execution. A great strategy alone won't win a game or a battle; the win comes from basic blocking and tackling.

~Naveen Jain

The day you become humble is the day you become successful.

~Naveen Jain

Call it the Tiger Mom effect: In the business world today, failure is apparently not an option.

~Naveen Jain

Think so big, so audacious that people will think you are crazy.

~Naveen Jain

The real metric of success isn't the size of your bank account. It's the number of lives in whom you might be able to make a positive difference.

~Naveen Jain

When you experience a failure as a leader, don't hide it - talk about it. Your missed opportunity will encourage others to take risks.

~Naveen Jain

Success is not how much money you have in a bank. Success is how many lives you have touched.

~Naveen Jain

Stay focused on the mission.

~Naveen Jain

True philanthropy requires a disruptive mindset, innovative thinking and a philosophy driven by entrepreneurial insights and creative opportunities.

~Naveen Jain

We owe it to our children to equip them with all the capabilities they'll need to thrive in the limitless world beyond the classrooms.

~Naveen Jain

Helping people boost themselves out of poverty is the best way to make a lasting positive difference in a person's life.

~Naveen Jain

Philanthropy without scale and sustainability is like any other bad business that will simply wither and die on the vine.

~Naveen Jain

We begin to change the world when we stimulate long-term prosperity using technology. There is not a problem that's large enough that innovation and entrepreneurship can't solve.

~Naveen Jain

I worked for Microsoft until 1996, till I had a different angle to view life. I wanted to be an entrepreneur and control my own destiny.

~Naveen Jain

We are now living in a fast paced technological era where every skill that we teach our children becomes obsolete in the 10 to 15 years due to exponentially growing technological advances.

~Naveen Jain

Success is not about how much money we have in the bank, but it's about how many peoples' lives we have impacted through it. Success is experienced when we do things which are never done before.

~Naveen Jain

The U.S. has spent billions of dollars on educating and supporting teachers or developing curricula but no resources are applied to 'improving the brain' that a student brings to the classroom.

~Naveen Jain

I grew up poor in India, and there were days when we struggled to find food and other basic necessities. Our mother worked odds and ends jobs to keep the family together and educate us.

~Naveen Jain

I believe that incentivized prizing is the best solution to help unlock the answers to the some of the profound problems that plague our planet.

~Naveen Jain

Each one of us has the power to be the change we want to see in the world, making the world a better place.

~Naveen Jain

It's a simple fact: no individual can be good at everything. Everyone needs people around them who have complimentary sets of skills.

~Naveen Jain

I have seen humility in many of the finest leaders I have met the world over. And indeed, it is embodied in the warm, engaging and quintessentially successful spirit of Sir Richard Branson.

~Naveen Jain

I've been an entrepreneur all my life, and my recent focus is on finding entrepreneurial solutions to address global challenges in healthcare and education.

~Naveen Jain

Just as physical exercise is a well-known and well-accepted means to improve health for anyone, regardless of age or background, so can the brain be put 'into shape' for optimal learning.

~Naveen Jain

My own philanthropic efforts have always included an educational element, whether it's expanding opportunities to educate a promising mind or extending the brain's ability to learn.

~Naveen Jain

The most frequently asked question I hear first-time entrepreneurs ask is, 'How do I know when to launch my product?' The answer, more often than not, should be: 'Now!'

~Naveen Jain

Every day you spend becoming an expert in a field, you become more useless in that field.

~Naveen Jain

All the conservation efforts in the world won't be enough to make a dent in the oncoming sustainability crisis our planet faces.

~Naveen Jain

I understand human needs. I grew up where far too many people lived day to day without elemental needs like food and shelter.

~Naveen Jain

I believe we need a more opportunistic and democratic approach to lunar exploration, now that we're shifting from U.S.

government-sponsored space exploration to private expeditions.

~Naveen Jain

It's really easy to create a $1 billion company - you just have to solve a $10 billion problem.

~Naveen Jain

Sometimes a faint voice based on instinct resonates far more strongly than overpowering logic.

~Naveen Jain

The United States of America became the envy of the world because we welcomed the best and brightest minds from anywhere on the planet and gave them the opportunity to succeed.

~Naveen Jain

If there is one thing I have learned on this incredible journey we call life, it is this: the sign of a truly successful individual is humility.
