I'll acknowledge that I'm from Canada but I don't think I'll acknowledge that I'm Canadian.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I don't want to over think anything because the second I do, I start to fail.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I just think if you're gonna play a show you should try and look nice.

~Nicholas Thorburn

Thankfully, I'm not put in a position where I'm made to feel like I can't live my life.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I like writing stories. That's what I like to do. That's the way I see it, but with every song I get sucked into feeling something.

~Nicholas Thorburn

When people all wear the same thing, people notice. They aren't stupid. People don't go, "Oh, you can see right through them!"

~Nicholas Thorburn

You're forced to step into that performer role. I can't just hide behind a synthesizer forever.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I've learned a lot about how to be in a band. It's like being in a marriage to these people. Because there's so many of us, there's a polygamous quality to it, which I've heard is really enjoyable.

~Nicholas Thorburn

It's always something that interests me, crafting a really perfect pop gem, but it's not a lifelong obsession. I've kind of moved beyond it. I think I needed to get that out of my system, to exorcise.

~Nicholas Thorburn

It is a game you have to play. You have to tour your ass off. It's just always "where am I now" versus "where could I be?" It's constant competition with yourself. But I'm up for it.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I really do just try to tune as much out as I can and make things that I think just sound good to me.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I've always got songs ready to go. It's not a challenge to conjure anything, it's just whether the music I supply is desirable.

~Nicholas Thorburn

I'm totally open to outside opinions and criticism.
