When you come to the edge of all that you know, you must believe one of two things: either there will be ground to stand on, or you will be given wings to fly.

~O.R. Melling

If you're betwixt and between, trust the one with red hair.

~O.R. Melling

Where there is no respect for life, there you will find evil.

~O.R. Melling

Hope burns eternal in the human heart.

~O.R. Melling

We considered behaving, but it's against our nature.

~O.R. Melling

Where do we record the passing of wildlife? Who mourns the silent deaths of the small?

~O.R. Melling

Love is patient. Love is kind. It bears all things. Love never fails. Love is as strong as death.

~O.R. Melling

Whatever will happen will happen. You either face it as a coward or you face it as a hero.

~O.R. Melling

Those who rise first are morally superior. It's a universal law.

~O.R. Melling

When you write for children and young adults, you have much more affect and influence on them than when you write for adults. The books that get us through our childhood stay with us for life.

~O.R. Melling

You can't really know what you are made of until you are tested.

~O.R. Melling

I was fortunate in that I attended university in Canada in the early 1970s when you could take a true liberal arts degree with no programmes, majors or minors.

~O.R. Melling

Im omnivorous in my tastes, fiction and non-fiction, always several books on the go, though Ill read a novel in a day or two.

~O.R. Melling

All my books reflect travel adventures of some kind, and all have a soul: a spiritual or mystical underpinning.

~O.R. Melling

If I have not love, I am Nothing.

~O.R. Melling

For every pleasure, there must be a sacrifice.

~O.R. Melling

Life is a journey through a foreign land.

~O.R. Melling

By that which you kill are you bound.

~O.R. Melling

You shouldn't read so much, you'll get a brain tumor.

~O.R. Melling

Tread softly for you tread on my dreams. -Honor,from the Summer King.
