If it was never new and it never gets old, then it's a folk song

~Oscar Isaac

The hardest things to do in any art is to risk failure and put yourself out on the line.

~Oscar Isaac

I think that's why often people in creative fields can feel so alone is because there's a constant third eye, that constant watcher.

~Oscar Isaac

A movie set is like a petri dish for neuroses, you know? It's just, like, egos and weird personalities and, more than anything, fear.

~Oscar Isaac

I think it's good to be a little more fearless in saying what you feel. In not being scared of the repercussions of that.

~Oscar Isaac

I like being like a chameleon who transforms himself with each role.

~Oscar Isaac

I'm definitely someone that's private. I've never been interested in celebrity.

~Oscar Isaac

To be able to shut off your emotions drastically, I think that the only way you can do that is if you have some of sociopathic qualities.

~Oscar Isaac

Coen brothers movies are not always what life looks like but it's definitely what life feels like.

~Oscar Isaac

I get attached to things: I wear the same jeans for a year.

~Oscar Isaac

I've written a lot of music, so to be able to put that together and play some shows around the country and elsewhere - that would really be a fun thing to do.

~Oscar Isaac

There's a reason why actors are always dying to work with the Coens. They just set the stage for you to do their best work.

~Oscar Isaac

When I'm creating a character, I don't see it so much as playing someone else as just playing a specific part of myself under certain circumstances.

~Oscar Isaac

What's most interesting about trying to figure out AI is the questions that it forces you to ask about the nature of consciousness.

~Oscar Isaac

The performances had to be live. When you play it back, you can see if the hands aren't really doing the right thing, and then the whole magic falls apart.

~Oscar Isaac

With Shakespeare, there's no subtext; you're speaking exactly what you're thinking constantly.

~Oscar Isaac

The idea of not getting a gun is not because I'm afraid of guns, it's not because I think guns are wrong, it's because it's impractical, it's stupid and it's exactly what they want me to do.

~Oscar Isaac

The superhero aesthetic is all about the human form and showing the body, whether they be female or male.

~Oscar Isaac
