Evidence points out that if you raise tariffs too much it will increase smuggling.

~P. Chidambaram

Today, to allege corruption seems to be the pastime of most people. All kinds of allegations are leveled. I think it is self-defeating.

~P. Chidambaram

It is possible that, post-Kyoto, the developed countries will recognise the requirements of the developing world.

~P. Chidambaram

People are wiser than we are willing to attribute to them.

~P. Chidambaram

All wisdom does not reside in Delhi.

~P. Chidambaram

Independence is a very subjective assessment.

~P. Chidambaram

In income tax, there is no case for amnesty.

~P. Chidambaram

Growth is a panacea for many ills in society; not entirely, but many.

~P. Chidambaram

What we will become depends on us

~P. Chidambaram

Let me tell you, very frankly, when I went to the Harvard Business School I was more or less a committed socialist.

~P. Chidambaram

Congress is not a party which fades when not in power

~P. Chidambaram

I don't think we should label budgets even before the budget is presented.

~P. Chidambaram

If you go back to any period in India's history, all the hard decisions this country had to take were taken when the Congress was in power.

~P. Chidambaram

A government can do only what is feasible given the political and economic context.

~P. Chidambaram

The voter does not vote only on one issue, the voter votes on a multiplicity of issues.

~P. Chidambaram

We cannot afford to leave the poor behind.

~P. Chidambaram

I have maintained that the people of India are ahead of their governments. The people of India are at least 10 to 15 years ahead of their governments.

~P. Chidambaram

I think people respect governments that take decisions and act decisively.

~P. Chidambaram

When I came back to India after Harvard Business School, I started as a lawyer and as a trade union leader.

~P. Chidambaram

I respect the view of a rating agency, but I do not make a budget for the rating agency. I make a budget for the people of India.

~P. Chidambaram

'Big business' was a bad phrase in India. To be accused of being big business was the worst accusation you could make. All that has gone now. The whole mindset has changed.

~P. Chidambaram

The police force cannot be completely independent of the executive government.

~P. Chidambaram

Criticism of a policy is welcome. But in the garb of criticizing a policy, if you allege that the policy was made for corrupt purposes, I reject it.

~P. Chidambaram

Police can only act on intelligence.
