Nelson Mandela can rot in prison until he dies or I die, whichever takes longer.

~P. W. Botha

I am sick and tired of the hollow parrot-cry of "Apartheid!" I've said many times that the word "Apartheid" means good neighbourliness.

~P. W. Botha

Most blacks are happy, except those who have had other ideas pushed into their ears.

~P. W. Botha

The idea of an Afrikaner people as a cultural entity and religious group with a special language will be retained in South Africa as long as civilisation stands.

~P. W. Botha

I want to warn young people who lend their ears to radicals and who play around with the music from Lusaka - they will end up inside the bear's fur coat, but they will no longer be able to live.

~P. W. Botha

I am not against the provision of the necessary medical assistance to Coloured and natives, because, unless they receive that medical aid, they become a source of danger to the European community.

~P. W. Botha

We do not want chaos in South Africa.

~P. W. Botha

Our history is responsible for the differences in the South African way of life.

~P. W. Botha

South Africa is not a jellyfish and is in many respects a swordfish.

~P. W. Botha

The free world wants to feed South Africa to the Red Crocodile [communism], to appease its hunger.

~P. W. Botha

The people who are opposing the policy of apartheid have not the courage of their convictions. They do not marry non-Europeans.

~P. W. Botha

You could not claim for yourself that which you were not prepared to grant others.

~P. W. Botha

I never have the nagging doubt of wondering whether perhaps I am wrong.

~P. W. Botha

The acceptance of vertical differentiation with the built-in principle of self-determination must apply on as many levels as possible.

~P. W. Botha
