

Paloma Faith Quotes

Thinking, People, Want, Men, Girl, Ideas, Proud, Records, Feels, Children, Clothes, Years, Sometimes, Believe, Song, Lucky, Mistake, Stupid, Cinema, Writing

Curvy is something to be proud of.

~Paloma Faith

Celebrity culture is an aspirational culture regardless of how much you don't want it to be.

~Paloma Faith

There's nothing wrong with a thick eyebrow; Frida Kahlo had them.

~Paloma Faith

I'm not interested in what other people are doing. That's their business.

~Paloma Faith

I'm really into food; it's one of my favourite things - everything from potato waffles to lobster.

~Paloma Faith

My denim jacket had 'I love GNR' and 'I love AC/DC' written all over it, but I always came back to swing.

~Paloma Faith

There's nothing better than achieving your goals, whatever they might be.

~Paloma Faith

All the things that I find beautiful have a darkness about them.

~Paloma Faith

I enjoy being a girl.

~Paloma Faith

You feel a sense of elation seeing yourself on a billboard.

~Paloma Faith

I really like to please people, and I think it's a symptom of being an only child.

~Paloma Faith

I'm under no illusion that there are things about me that I'd like to change. I just accept who I am, and I'm proud of it.

~Paloma Faith

I believe in life you need to always ask for everything politely and nicely, and then if they say no you do what you wanted to do anyway

~Paloma Faith

I'm a serial monogamist.

~Paloma Faith

I think soul is soul. I don't see new soul as any different to old soul.

~Paloma Faith

Some men think that if you're empowered and sure of yourself then you're a man-hater, but it's like, 'No, I'm just the same as you are, but maybe just a tiny bit more confident.'

~Paloma Faith

I like sparkles; I think I'm a magpie.

~Paloma Faith

I don't overthink when I'm styling. I kind of forgive myself and accept that I will make mistakes. Getting dressed should be a fun experience!

~Paloma Faith

I vote Labour and can't begin to acknowledge anything good that comes from a Tory.

~Paloma Faith

I agree with cosmetic surgery for medical reasons - my mother had breast cancer and I think it's very sad when somebody has no choice in what happens to their body.

~Paloma Faith

I don't have a daily routine, beyond brushing my teeth. It changes every day.

~Paloma Faith

I feel quite fearless protecting the people I love.

~Paloma Faith

I'm the type of person who, if somebody offers me a free meal, I get excited because you never know where your next free meal is going to come from.

~Paloma Faith

Sometimes people fear the truth. They'd rather not speak to you than know what you really think.

~Paloma Faith

Dressing up is like therapy; I feel better in myself when I've made an effort.

~Paloma Faith

I don't feel I fit in with morning television because I'm like a vampire and I like to stay up late.

~Paloma Faith

I've spent a lot of time being bohemian and sleeping on floors, but eventually I want to have kids and I want to bring them up in a secure environment.

~Paloma Faith

Real talent shines through regardless of how many others there are around you.

~Paloma Faith

I'm not one for sightseeing or going around the shops when I'm on holiday. I do enough shopping when I'm at home, and like to have a complete break when I'm away.

~Paloma Faith

I like not to feel that all my eggs are in one basket, or I get nervous.

~Paloma Faith

I really hate bureaucracy and the idea that I'm not a free person.

~Paloma Faith

I like someone with a really good and dark sense of humour.

~Paloma Faith

I get to know my regular fans, and they inspire me.

~Paloma Faith

I wish I was more stupid because I'm either completely ecstatic and joyous and absolutely high as a kite or I'm a bit morbid. There's never anything in between.

~Paloma Faith

It's tragic that you can define a whole movement in music by gender alone. People are like, 'Oh, look, another quirky girl.'

~Paloma Faith

I think I'd be a million times more successful and more iconic if I was a singer in the 40s. I'd be allowed a level of mystery and I think I'd suit that decade.

~Paloma Faith

Adele's like a beacon of honesty. Doesn't compromise, goes to America and she's still the same swearsy cockney.

~Paloma Faith

I love going to the cinema. Whenever I get time off, that's where I go.

~Paloma Faith

I'm not a pop act, churning stuff out really quickly. I find the music that arises from that style of working is distracted, not particularly profound.

~Paloma Faith

I try not to brand myself 'weird' any more because it sticks.

~Paloma Faith

I just have an inability to lie.

~Paloma Faith

I am inspired by show girls and Vegas. I was a cabaret performer, so that's where all that influence comes from.

~Paloma Faith

Compared to a lot of artists, I'm usually quite covered up in videos and photo shoots.

~Paloma Faith

I was once in a long relationship with a man who ran a vintage clothes store but had been a chef, so I'd come home each night to a different three-course meal. I was quite fat, but so happy.

~Paloma Faith

I'd never go on a reality show - it's too invasive.

~Paloma Faith

All creative people have to have vulnerability because those nuances are what move people. So I'm deeply insecure - but I'm good at hiding it.

~Paloma Faith

I get plenty of, 'Is that song about me?' from men but I just tell them to get over themselves.

~Paloma Faith

I don't connect much with the present. I have more of an affinity for what came in the past.

~Paloma Faith

You cannot schedule death.

~Paloma Faith

I'm surrounded by friends and family who are not that impressed by celebrity. They don't have any problem telling me I'm acting like an idiot or I'm not that funny.

~Paloma Faith

I just really want to make albums - and however I can, I will.

~Paloma Faith

I'm so used to changing time zones that I can sleep at any time. I'm rarely ever tossing and turning - if I am, it's really a big deal.

~Paloma Faith

I'd say that, first and foremost, I'm a performer; I started performing when I was four years old, and being on stage from a young age set me up.

~Paloma Faith

I try to stick to a certain diet all the time, and then when I feel like a reward, I have it. I try to stick to no dairy, no sugar, no wheat.

~Paloma Faith

I'd rather be on my own than be with a violent man.

~Paloma Faith

I'd rather die than let somebody get the better of me.

~Paloma Faith

I dread the idea of a paparazzi snapping me while I'm out running.

~Paloma Faith

I'm not a downtrodden woman. I just won't be.

~Paloma Faith

It's amazing living alone. I'm very lucky. It's like a refuge.

~Paloma Faith

I'm very affected by what I watch and read.

~Paloma Faith

I've got so many clothes; I can dress in any style.

~Paloma Faith

My desire to experiment comes from my attention-deficit approach to cosmetics. I just get really bored, really easily.

~Paloma Faith

Anybody who says they don't want to be seen on a show which has millions of people watching it at one time when they're in the business of selling records is a bit silly.

~Paloma Faith

I don't normally have time to read, so when I go away I like to take a few books.

~Paloma Faith

I think initially, the record industry struggled a lot with digital media because there are a lot of aspects to it that can potentially destroy our industry.

~Paloma Faith

I love Andre 3000 from OutKast. I think we'd complement each other, but I'm hoping he's got a good sense of humour.

~Paloma Faith

Working with Terry Gilliam was magic - I've been watching his films since I was little.

~Paloma Faith

When I do my shows, it's really cross-generational. Sometimes there's three generations there.

~Paloma Faith

Whatever you are, you have the right to get married.

~Paloma Faith

We live in a society where everything's packaged.

~Paloma Faith

The freedom that money gives you makes you... well, I wouldn't say happy, but I'd say it gives you diversity.

~Paloma Faith

Sometimes when you've got too much money you lose your imagination.

~Paloma Faith

I stay true to my lyrics. If I go back and look at them in hindsight, the emotions I had when I wrote them have passed. It feels unjustified to change them.

~Paloma Faith

When you're on the pop treadmill, you don't always feel that cool because you have to do things to promote the record that aren't necessarily your environment.

~Paloma Faith

There are lots of beautiful areas in England, and I am lucky enough to live in a stunning part of a very beautiful area.

~Paloma Faith

I always carry a good lipstick with me, like MAC in Ruby Woo. It has a matt finish, the essence of that vintage glamour look.

~Paloma Faith

If I see something that inspires me, I'll dress like it.

~Paloma Faith

No one ever chats me up; I think they all think I'm taken. Either that or no one fancies me.

~Paloma Faith

It's celebrated in British culture to be eccentric.

~Paloma Faith

I'd love to say that I could write political songs, but I don't feel clued-up enough.

~Paloma Faith

I wasn't really comfortable reading until I was 12.

~Paloma Faith

I want my shows to be eerie and mysterious.

~Paloma Faith

I think everybody should focus on inner beauty.

~Paloma Faith

I have a lot of admiration for people who've been in relationships a long time, married for years.

~Paloma Faith

I feel curious about every situation I'm in.

~Paloma Faith

Cinema affects everything, from the way I get dressed to how I build my stages.

~Paloma Faith

Mum doesn't like it when I mention that Dad's a better cook than her. He was born in Spain and spent eight years in Portugal and is exceptional at lots of cuisines.

~Paloma Faith

If I go out with no make-up and a tracksuit on, nobody comes up to me. And if they do, I won't do a photo because I wouldn't want any photographic evidence.

~Paloma Faith

I don't understand why the accent you speak in has to indicate what level of intellect you have.

~Paloma Faith

We all get old, but I always say the skinny, pretty girls will be screwed.

~Paloma Faith

My mum's always on at me to have children and blames 'that stupid stage thing you do' for me not already having a family.

~Paloma Faith

My mum came from nothing and didn't have many opportunities in her youth, and she blames a lot of her social inadequacies on that.

~Paloma Faith

My favourite authors are Milan Kundera and Jeanette Winterson.

~Paloma Faith

I lend people money, but I'd never lend something that would jeopardise a friendship if I didn't get it back.

~Paloma Faith

I'm not that materialistic. I like nice clothes and that, but I don't spend lots of money on stuff. I'm not really into TV, I don't have an iPod, I've got a gramophone.

~Paloma Faith

I don't have a competitive bone in my body, so the last thing I want to do is be competing with people.

~Paloma Faith

I feel quite excited about the possibility of working on multiple albums. There's something really iconic about having a catalog featuring a lot of albums, and I'd love to have that legacy.

~Paloma Faith

I love interesting people with eccentric stories and outsiders of the world.

~Paloma Faith

If I get in a relationship, it's always for the long-term; if not, I don't see the point.

~Paloma Faith

I'm proud of being British, but I think our aristocracy is overrated.

~Paloma Faith

Related Links:

- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Girl Quotes
- Ideas Quotes
- Proud Quotes
- Records Quotes
- Feels Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Clothes Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Sometimes Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Song Quotes
- Lucky Quotes
- Mistake Quotes
- Stupid Quotes
- Cinema Quotes
- Writing Quotes