Look. I have a strategy. Why expect anything? If you don't expect anything, you don't get disappointed.

~Patricia McCormick

If you look hard enough, chaos turns into order the way letters turn into words.

~Patricia McCormick

You show you care, you die.You show you fear, you die.You show nothing, maybe you live.

~Patricia McCormick

Simply to endure is to triumph.

~Patricia McCormick

Trying to remember, I have learned, is like trying to clutch a handful of fog. Trying to forget, like trying to hold back the monsoon.

~Patricia McCormick

A man who doles out sweets, and slaps, with the same hand.

~Patricia McCormick

Sometimes when we're in situations where we feel we're not in control, we do things, especially things that take a lot of energy, as a way of making ourselves feel we have some power.

~Patricia McCormick

Instead, we linger over a luxury that costs nothing: Imagining what may be.

~Patricia McCormick

This affliction--hope--is so cruel and stubborn, I believe it will kill me

~Patricia McCormick

Inside my head I carry: my baby goat, my baby brother, my ama's face, our family's future. My bundle is light. My burden is heavy.

~Patricia McCormick

Long time I been on my own, but now really I'm alone. I survive the killing, the starving, all the hate of the Khmer Rouge, but I think maybe now I will die of this, of broken heart.

~Patricia McCormick

Guard the portals of your mind.
