We need to think of chronic disease, hypertension, cancer, like H1N1. In fact, there's an epidemic of chronic disease.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I have an obligation to use what I know to try to bring real, usable medical science to every doctor and bedside and patient.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

It's unconscionable that cancer patients get the wrong diagnosis 30 percent of the time and that it takes so long to treat them with appropriate drugs for their cancer.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I want to do transformational work to actually fix the world.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I'm a physician. I've been blessed with ideas and resources to use technology to make the world a better place. That's what I would like to leave behind.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

The pancreas is by far the most complex organ in the body.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

The foundations and the intent of the Affordable Care Act are laudable. The way it's being implemented is a disaster.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I love doing a lot of things I'm told I can't do. I think that's what drives me and keeps me awake every day.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

You don't inherit cancer; you actually get it.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I like to look for patterns, in science and life. It's what I do.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I was working with stem cells as part of a NASA programme. We realised that the science of stem-cell proliferation was also fundamental to cancer cells when cancer enters the phase of metastasis.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

We need to and must protect privacy. But I think that people will be willing and even eager to share medical information about themselves for the greater good of mankind.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I'm truly passionate about basketball. I'm not as passionate about baseball as I am about basketball, but I watch baseball and I watch football. I love sports in general.

~Patrick Soon-Shiong

I think of L.A. as truly the melting pot. It's basically a mini country unto itself.
