I don't like being lied to.

~Patrick Wilson

I am an avid runner, mainly on weekends.

~Patrick Wilson

I did have Skidz overalls. Remember Skidz, those baggy plaid pants that look like pajamas? So I did rock overalls, but not in purple velvet. I couldn't find those.

~Patrick Wilson

You have your vision and you need to be focused, but you have to listen. I never felt a sense that the wheels were going to come off because we're all friends and family. It was all good.

~Patrick Wilson

I am fascinated with religion or things that people believe in and question that. I think it's interesting.

~Patrick Wilson

I didn't win prom king. By that point, I'd quit sports except for soccer, so I was really just a theater guy. I totally lost to the captain of the football team.

~Patrick Wilson

You don't ever see a thriller with a spiritual backbone.

~Patrick Wilson

I try to shave at night so my skin has a chance to settle by the early morning call-time.

~Patrick Wilson

Somebody can paint with a fine brush like Monet and do millions of little dots or somebody can splatter it up there like Kandinsky or Jackson

Pollock and go "Yep, that's art." That's okay.

~Patrick Wilson

For everybody that does something bad there's gotta be someone that does something good.

~Patrick Wilson

Emasculation does seem to be a theme in the roles that I choose.

~Patrick Wilson

I think your teenage years define your musical roots forever. You're always looking for a theme for your high school years.

~Patrick Wilson

A wide receiver like me wouldn't have won. The quarterback - or even the running back - always wins.

~Patrick Wilson

I love making movies, but there's nothing like being in front of an audience.

~Patrick Wilson

When you're playing the good guy, you want to find the dirty parts - and when you're playing the bad guy, you want to find the vulnerability.

~Patrick Wilson

You never want to judge your character.

~Patrick Wilson

When you shoot a movie so quickly you can't really afford to shoot a bunch of extra footage because you don't have that luxury.

~Patrick Wilson

I like the not knowing of what the next job is.

~Patrick Wilson

I think you have to pick and choose what is most important to tell the story.

~Patrick Wilson

It was always acting for me, since I was about 15. My middle brother always wanted to be a news anchor, so we always felt that he'd be the one to take over for dad, so we could go and do our thing.

~Patrick Wilson

It's frustrating sometimes for actors because you slam it out and you have a great time, you think it's funny, and then for whatever reason the movie doesn't come together.

~Patrick Wilson

I think the balance is between what you can get, what you want and what wants you.

~Patrick Wilson

I don't concentrate on if a moment is scary or not. That's not my job.

~Patrick Wilson

I've got whole years of unfortunate clothing in '80s.

~Patrick Wilson

For me, I always have to establish a reality for the character. In very actor-y terms, you just have to understand his reality.

~Patrick Wilson

Honestly, if you're just going to be the love interest then at least let it be a really good movie. Not every role is going to be Hamlet, I know that.

~Patrick Wilson

You have to know what you're shooting. Don't just make your movie in the editing room and just get everything you can on the day.

~Patrick Wilson

When I look at a character, whether he's good or bad, one scene or 10 scenes, I just have to find my way in.

~Patrick Wilson

I just don't watch a lot of TV.

~Patrick Wilson

In a normal movie, you'd never see one guy talk for an entire page, whether good or bad.

~Patrick Wilson

A heroic nature is very Greek.
