I mean, they call it Stockholm Syndrome and post traumatic stress disorder. And, you know, I had no free will. I had virtually no free will until I was separated from them for about two weeks.

~Patty Hearst

My daughters have grown up knowing all about my kidnapping and the case and what happened.

~Patty Hearst

Is it reasonable to assume that someone who has been locked in a closet for 57 days after being kidnapped and brutalized, raped, abused, then they say you're going to rob a bank?

~Patty Hearst

Well, you know, it's really been, you know, quite a trip for me.

~Patty Hearst

For me, my awakening came when I was kidnapped.

~Patty Hearst

There is - you know, there's receipts for rented cars and license plates and guns and hand prints and palm prints and fingerprints. You know, I want to wait until I'm in a court.

~Patty Hearst

I finally figured out what my crime was. I lived. Big mistake.

~Patty Hearst

I'm a coward, I didn't want to die.

~Patty Hearst

I got hit in the face with a gun. I'm not very fragile at all. It makes me think maybe things would be easier if I were terribly frail and fragile somehow.

~Patty Hearst

Well, you know, they were - they were a terrorist group. They - when I was kidnapped they published all of their statements about their war that they declared on the United States.

~Patty Hearst

Even to me, as I was trying to tell the government what had happened, it just didn't seem to matter.

~Patty Hearst

I think Charles Manson was a hair's breath away from just being a terrorist. He wanted to start a war, too.

~Patty Hearst

And here in Los Angeles, once again, I'm going to go down and be a witness. There's a guilty plea. I don't mind being on the witness stand, but I think they mind it a lot.

~Patty Hearst

You have to go hunting to know the excitement of seeing someone get their first deer. It's a thrill for them. It is.

~Patty Hearst

Through my mind, is just the horror of these people. I had been held by them, I knew how violent they were.

~Patty Hearst

You know, my daughters have been through their entire lives and knowing about my case.

~Patty Hearst

I mean, Emily Harris was his wife. And she seemed to resent his leadership, but on the other hand, she felt like a good soldier, that he had to be the leader.

~Patty Hearst

I became as much of a believer as I was capable of becoming.

~Patty Hearst

It's hard to know what to say about somebody like that, except there are people who look for trouble. And trouble is very easy to find when you go looking for it.

~Patty Hearst

People who've never gone hunting have a tendency to look down on hunters and act like they're out killing Bambi's father.

~Patty Hearst

And, you know, like I said, I'm not looking forward to a trial.
