If you can imagine missing feeling sad, it's the only thing worse than pain.

~Paul Dalio

Fellini was [David] Lynch's master and his biggest idol, and he believed in Fellini's view that film is a dream, it's not reality. It's all about delving into the unconscious.

~Paul Dalio

After working with so many great actors and acting students in film school, it was a whole other thing working with Luke [Kirby].

~Paul Dalio

When you encounter that first love, a young love, you do feel that your story is original. You are utterly convinced that your story has never been told before, because it hasn't.

~Paul Dalio

If people are saying that somehow their connection is going to be detrimental to their health, of course they are going to reject that idea, because that's the power of falling like that.

~Paul Dalio

Love is the most universal experience. There is nothing more important than love, there is nothing more meaningful than love, and there is nothing more human in people's relationships than love.

~Paul Dalio

Emotions are what drives everyone. You get up in the morning and go do something because the emotion drives you to it.
