When fairy tales are written in the west, they're known as folklore. In the east, fairy tales are called religions.

~Paul Henderson

My wife and I really enjoy a glass of red wine. We're too old to drink cheap wine, and we don't.

~Paul Henderson

Canadians don't have a very big political lever, we're nice guys.

~Paul Henderson

I get up every morning and it's going to be a great day. You never know when it's going to be over so I refuse to have a bad day.

~Paul Henderson

My philosophy is I take today, live it the best way I can and if I wake up I'll take another shot at tomorrow.

~Paul Henderson

I don't eat fast food any more, not since I got cancer.

~Paul Henderson

I'm so proud to be Canadian. I've been to 58 countries, and they're wonderful countries, but Canada is the best.

~Paul Henderson

Pride is about the ugliest trait somebody can have.

~Paul Henderson

Cancer is cancer. I've got a great life if I can just stay alive.

~Paul Henderson

I always thought Christians were the weak people. When you can't make it in life then you have to ask God. I really prided myself on being a self-made man.

~Paul Henderson

The Bible says not to worry so I don't. I just get up in the morning and ask God for help to get through the day. If tomorrow shows up then I'll take the same shot tomorrow.

~Paul Henderson

I'm pretty transparent and have no problem sharing my weaknesses.

~Paul Henderson

I'm a very, very proud Canadian, and having the privilege to represent my country on the international level was the highlight of my 18-year career.

~Paul Henderson

In a war, you do whatever you have to do.

~Paul Henderson

My philosophy, don't let cancer ruin your life. You get up every day and use what you have and what time you have left.

~Paul Henderson

The Lord expects us to enjoy our lives. He says there will be some brutal times, but we shouldn't get all bent out of shape about it.

~Paul Henderson

I didn't handle fame very well at first. I got a little resentful.

~Paul Henderson

There is no wrinkle-free life.

~Paul Henderson

After I started to understand the spiritual dimension of life, I understood the responsibilities you have as a husband, a father, a friend and a hockey player.

~Paul Henderson

[Airmail was] an impractical sort of fad, and had no place in the serious job of postal transportation.

~Paul Henderson

Contentment does not come from achievement. It comes from a relationship with the Lord.

~Paul Henderson

When you have hope, and you have peace, you can handle anything.

~Paul Henderson

Take one day at a time. Allow yourself to change.
