~Pete Carroll

It comes down to taking care of the people in your program and making them the best they can be-not giving up on them and never failing to be there for them.

~Pete Carroll

I wanted to find out if we went to the NFL and really took care of guys, really cared about each and every individual, what would happen?

~Pete Carroll

The how-to is all about day in, day out finding a way to feed the monster, the drive that lives inside.

~Pete Carroll

You're either competing or you're not.

~Pete Carroll

The thing that always strikes me is how much power one person has.

Everybody has so much power to help and to change if they just exercise it and get after it.

~Pete Carroll

And sure, there's a universe where I made a bonehead call that blew the Super Bowl. But that's not my universe.

~Pete Carroll

You will find a way to make your message fresher. You'll find a way to make your connections in a way that will continue to inspire and direct and motivate. That's what I'm banking on.

~Pete Carroll

Relentless pursuit to find a competitive edge.

~Pete Carroll

Russell Wilson has got a tremendous competitive mindset and it stems from the confidence that he feels based on the preparation that he puts in.

~Pete Carroll

At the highest level in the NFL, the pass game is as complex as you can imagine.

~Pete Carroll

I just realized how bad it is when you're not in charge and you're a head coach.

~Pete Carroll

So, regardless of what they do, we have to play like we're capable of playing. That's a greater challenge in itself, but that's really what we're after.

~Pete Carroll

I will always be interested in the truth, yeah.

~Pete Carroll

He has to be a great teacher. You have to have the right stuff and in the right proportions, and you have to convey that to the coaches, and then to the players.

~Pete Carroll

I read a lot of different stuff, but I keep being open to inspiration.

~Pete Carroll

My dad was a good competitor. I know he'd think I was a little off the charts.

~Pete Carroll

My dad was a great competitor in his own way. He would never let us win at anything, and we had to work our tails off to beat him.

~Pete Carroll
