Going to a psychiatrist has become one of the most dangerous things a person can do.

~Peter Breggin

The miracle drugs (neuroleptics) cause the worst plague of brain damage in medical history.

~Peter Breggin

Love is the most ethically consistent experience, because selfishness and altruism no longer seem opposed or in conflict.

~Peter Breggin

I think that one of the things that has happened is that psychiatry has become the religion of liberalism.

~Peter Breggin

In reality, psychiatric diagnosing is a kind of spiritual profiling that can destroy lives and frequently does.

~Peter Breggin

[Our children] have been taken away from us by the psychiatric mental-health system. They've been taken away by the educational system, by the government, and by many different forces.

~Peter Breggin

I come from a liberal tradition. I'm Jewish. My dad was a liberal. What I've found is that people who see themselves as thoughtful, caring, educated and informed have swallowed psychiatry as the way.

~Peter Breggin

Hillary [Clinton] even said that, whether or not teenagers want treatment, they have to get it. So it's involuntary treatment.

~Peter Breggin

[Alfred Kinsey] was sexually abusing those children and had sex abusers working for him to stimulate the babies.

~Peter Breggin

Only in psychiatry is the existence of physical disease determined by APA presidential proclamations, by committee decisions, and even, by a vote of the members of APA, not to mention the courts.

~Peter Breggin

Parents must refuse to cooperate with any psychological evaluation of their children in school.

~Peter Breggin

I would like to write my next book about what happened to critical intelligence in America and how it's been undermined by these really shallow ideas about human life and nature.

~Peter Breggin

Romantic love is sexually passionate love. Romance uses sexual intimacy to create or amplify closeness and mutual fulfillment.
