I don't know anyone at the highest levels who approved Abu Ghraib. If President Barack Obama for a moment thought that somebody at a high level had approved it, he would go after them.

~Peter King

But 85 percent of the mosques have extremist leadership in this country. Most Muslims, the overwhelming majority of Muslims, are loyal Americans.

~Peter King

There are too many people sympathetic to radical Islam. We should be looking at them more carefully and finding out how we can infiltrate them.

~Peter King

WikiLeaks presents a clear and present danger to the national security of the United States.

~Peter King

Every soldier, every cop who's faced with a decision to make, a life or death, does the best he or she can.

~Peter King

The importance of command leadership. Clear objective and strategy and loyalty to those reporting to you.

~Peter King

The president should stop apologizing, stop being defensive. The reality is the NSA has saved thousands of lives not just in the United States but in France, Germany and throughout Europe.

~Peter King

There is an obligation both moral, but also legal, I believe, against a reporter disclosing something which would so severely compromise national security.

~Peter King

Ask Bill Clinton about Yasir Arafat. Clinton and Barak did everything they could in 2000 at Camp David. Arafat walked away from it.

~Peter King

We'll take care of the counting.

~Peter King

The British government is a murder machine.

~Peter King

If civilians are killed in an attack on a military installation, it is certainly regrettable, but I will not morally blame the I.R.A. for it.

~Peter King

The president's dream of a worldwide liberal utopia is going to undermine the security of the United States.

~Peter King

I so admire great writing done quickly, with great detail.

~Peter King

We are a nation at war - and we should act like it.

~Peter King

We have too many mosques in America.
