When I was a kid doing television, they'd stick a leather jacket on me, and I would be the thug.

~Phil Daniels

I used to go into bars on my days off, and I decided that wasn't too good for me.

~Phil Daniels

I found that golf saved me from going to the pub every day so instead I play golf with other unemployed actors. I'm a member of the Stage Golfing Society and I play golf with all sorts of people.

~Phil Daniels

I grew up near King's Cross station in London, living in an apartment block where my dad was a caretaker.

~Phil Daniels

It's great to do small plays in the theatre and then go off with Blur and play in front of thousands of people.

~Phil Daniels

Doing 'EastEnders' wasn't exactly suffering, but my soul's not in quick-fix TV. Theatre doesn't pay like TV work pays, though. We all have to live, don't we?

~Phil Daniels

I get on with actors, and when I'm doing a theatre show, it's great being with them all the time. But we're all alike, and it's much nicer being with people who are different.

~Phil Daniels

I had a weimaraner for 11 years called China, and he was a great dog, a bit mad. They're massive, weimaraners; they've got big floppy ears. They look like a pointer, but they're liver-coloured.

~Phil Daniels

It's never gone so far as me wishing I'd never done 'Quadrophenia,' but there was a time when I wouldn't talk about it because I wanted people to be interested in me for other things as well.

~Phil Daniels

I'm famous for being a silky midfielder.

~Phil Daniels

I think that's what keeps you grounded - having your own life that's not directed by your job.

~Phil Daniels

I don't miss EastEnders. I did a two-stretch. That was enough.

~Phil Daniels

I like people like Robert De Niro and Anthony Hopkins. And Gianfranco Zola, who played for Chelsea and Italy. He's an artist with his feet.

~Phil Daniels

Being a part-time pop star was perfect, really, when I wasn't worn out by the partying.

~Phil Daniels

Acting is my passion and Chelsea FC is my hobby.

~Phil Daniels

Acting is a tough industry. There are a lot of kids out there at drama schools and not a lot of money about, especially as the arts are being cut.

~Phil Daniels

My philosophy is to enjoy yourself. Do the things you want to do, like play golf!
