We spend the first twelve months of our children's lives teaching them to walk and talk and the next twelve telling them to sit down and shut up.

~Phyllis Diller

A smile is a curve that sets everything straight.

~Phyllis Diller

If you don't have wrinkles, you haven't laughed enough.

~Phyllis Diller

Whatever you may look like, marry a man your own age - as your beauty fades, so will his eyesight.

~Phyllis Diller

I've tried Buddhism, Scientology, Numerology, Transcendental Meditation, Qabbala, t'ai chi, feng shui and Deepak Chopra but I find straight gin works best.

~Phyllis Diller

Housework can't kill you, but why take a chance?

~Phyllis Diller

The reason women don't play football is because 11 of them would never wear the same outfit in public.

~Phyllis Diller

Never go to bed mad. Stay up and fight.

~Phyllis Diller

Maybe it's true that life begins at fifty. But everything else starts to wear out, fall out, or spread out.

~Phyllis Diller

My cooking is so bad my kids thought Thanksgiving was to commemorate Pearl Harbor.

~Phyllis Diller

You know you're old when someone compliments you on your alligator shoes, and you're barefoot.

~Phyllis Diller

You know you're old if they have discontinued your blood type.

~Phyllis Diller

I once wore a peekaboo blouse. People would peek and then they'd boo.

~Phyllis Diller

I want my children to have all the things I couldn't afford. Then I want to move in with them.

~Phyllis Diller

I spent seven hours in a beauty shop... and that was for the estimate.

~Phyllis Diller

My recipe for dealing with anger and frustration: set the kitchen timer for twenty minutes, cry, rant, and rave, and at the sound of the bell, simmer down and go about business as usual.

~Phyllis Diller

It would seem that something which means poverty, disorder and violence every single day should be avoided entirely, but the desire to beget children is a natural urge.

~Phyllis Diller

In most states you can get a driver's license when you're sixteen years old, which made a lot of sense to me when I was sixteen years old but now seems insane.

~Phyllis Diller

I serve dinner in three phases: serve the food, clear the table, bury the dead.

~Phyllis Diller

Most children threaten at times to run away from home. This is the only thing that keeps some parents going.

~Phyllis Diller

Cleaning your house while your kids are still growing up is like shoveling the walk before it stops snowing.

~Phyllis Diller

Women want men, careers, money, children, friends, luxury, comfort, independence, freedom, respect, love, and a three-dollar pantyhose that won't run.

~Phyllis Diller

This woman goes into a gun shop and says, 'I want to buy a gun for my husband.' The clerk says, 'Did he tell you what kind of gun?' 'No,' she replied. 'He doesn't even know I'm going to shoot him.'

~Phyllis Diller

What I don't like about office Christmas parties is looking for a job the next day.

~Phyllis Diller

I was the world's ugliest baby. When I was born, the doctor slapped everybody.

~Phyllis Diller

I love to go to the doctor. Where else would a man look at me and say,

'Take off your clothes'?

~Phyllis Diller

To get a roaster clean, send something like baked apples in it to a neighbor. Neighbors always return pans spotless, and you won't have to use a blow torch on it like you usually do.
