Unfortunately, from what I can see from my vantage point as the U.S. Attorney here, illegal insider trading is rampant and may even be on the rise.

~Preet Bharara

Securities fraud generally and insider trading in particular should be eminently deterrable crimes.

~Preet Bharara

I wanted to be a prosecutor - a criminal lawyer - because there's nowhere where the stakes are higher, where you can wake up every day and believe in what you're doing.

~Preet Bharara

I just want to apologize in advance that I don't have enough subpoenas for all of you.

~Preet Bharara

History has shown that one cannot legislate a culture of integrity. And yet, one of the paramount responsibilities and challenges of corporate leadership is to ensure such a culture.

~Preet Bharara

I don't get paid to serve the president. I get paid to serve the public and what I think is in the interest of justice, no matter who the president is.

~Preet Bharara

I don't eat green things, no vegetables.

~Preet Bharara

I'm a big fan of meat.

~Preet Bharara

In some respects, inside information is a form of financial steroid. It is unfair: it is offensive; it is unlawful; and it puts a black mark on the entire enterprise.

~Preet Bharara

I don't like coffee but I need caffeine.

~Preet Bharara

I have come to really love the sound of nervous laughter.

~Preet Bharara

As the United States attorney in Manhattan, I have come to worry about few things as much as the gathering cyber threat.

~Preet Bharara

I eat almost no lunch. I have a big dinner but I don't have a big lunch.

~Preet Bharara

Businesses should be assured that law enforcement will operate with the utmost sensitivity toward victims of cyber attacks.
