We often don't realize that where God puts us is the very place we need to be to receive what He wants to give us.

~Priscilla Shirer

Give your hands to Him for His work, your feet to walk His path, and your ears to hear Him speak.

~Priscilla Shirer

We serve a God who is waiting to hear from you, and He can't wait to respond.

~Priscilla Shirer

Today's difficulties are often a result of yesterday's disobedience.

~Priscilla Shirer

Everything you need God already is.

~Priscilla Shirer

Unity does not mean sameness. It means oneness of purpose.

~Priscilla Shirer

What might God be trying to grow in your character or cement in your relationship with Him by keeping you separated from some of the things you want but don't yet have?

~Priscilla Shirer

Whatever you are holding onto in this life, hold it loosely so it won't hurt when the Lord has to pry your fingers open to take it away.

~Priscilla Shirer

Only God's presence can change people's lives.

~Priscilla Shirer

Now is the time to know that God is able. To connect your current reality with God's present ability.

~Priscilla Shirer

God has gone before us so we can walk in the future He has for us.

~Priscilla Shirer

Contentment is the equilibrium between the enjoyment of life now and the anticipation of what is to come.

~Priscilla Shirer

True success in any endeavor can only come when the Father has initiated the activity and invited our participation.

~Priscilla Shirer

If you feel an overwhelming urge to act spontaneously, pull in the reins

~Priscilla Shirer

Fervent prayer keeps your true identity in focus.

~Priscilla Shirer

Persistent, internal inklings matched by external confirmation is often the way God directs believers into His will.

~Priscilla Shirer

Yesterday's partial obedience creates staggering consequences in today's experiences.

~Priscilla Shirer

In the midst of a universe that cannot exist for a second without constant motion, God transcended the order of nature. He stopped. He rested. And He prescribes the same for you and me.
