Man's idea of God, and a God's collusion, is an essential part of the equation to wage war.

~Ralph Steadman

God invented mankind because he loved silly stories.

~Ralph Steadman

There's no such thing as a mistake, really. It's just an opportunity to do something else.

~Ralph Steadman

Moral authority has been laid to rest, world opinion is no more than a game show and the difference between good and evil is about as relevant as changing channels.

~Ralph Steadman

Evil is always devising more corrosive misery through man's restless need to exact revenge out of his hate.

~Ralph Steadman

Call immediately. Time is running out. We both need to do something monstrous before we die.

~Ralph Steadman

I get my best ideas in a thunderstorm. I have the power and majesty of nature on my side.

~Ralph Steadman

America is ripe for lies and lethargy. The pure mountain air is going and gone. It is a huge burden and a sadness for us all.

~Ralph Steadman

Whats a gonzoic frenzy? Well its me in the throes of an ink splattering attempt to capture the feeling I have at that particular time.

~Ralph Steadman

Suspicion and doubt lead to animosity and hatred.

~Ralph Steadman

I see if I can make human beings look like reptiles.

~Ralph Steadman

I once saw a lump of Greenland breaking off into the sea and moving south, which of course will affect the atmosphere and us generally, and it'll happen more and more.

~Ralph Steadman

It makes me so desperately sad to witness just how unforgivably wretched our world has become.

~Ralph Steadman

Beware of privilege. It stinks of rotten fish heads, many of which were lapping the shore beneath the jetties.

~Ralph Steadman

Half of art is accident, but there is no accident without free experiment.

~Ralph Steadman

Governments are not running the show anymore. Scumbag Entrepreneurs are, and they have a harsh and ruthless agenda.

~Ralph Steadman

Isolationism is over.

~Ralph Steadman

I am an artist, I trade in uncertainty and superstition and cant. I invent dark visions of impossible situations that can never be resolved.

~Ralph Steadman

Funny thing about Americans. They are the first to adopt weird lifestyles and radical views but they are the most conservative race on earth.

~Ralph Steadman

You know, we're really destroying ourselves because we're really making the motivating force of anything we do selfish.

~Ralph Steadman

You see, nature will do exactly what it must, and if we are a hindrance to its development, to even its destructive powers to reform itself and we are in a way, we will go.

~Ralph Steadman

What I used to do with a passion, foolishly and vainly imagining I would change the world for the better, I no longer tolerate in myself or anyone else. But draw, always draw - and WRITE.

~Ralph Steadman

Business should never be allowed to justify mean, thug ugly deals for any reason.

~Ralph Steadman

You see that's what I think is such a terrible, terrible betrayal, the trust that people have in government.

~Ralph Steadman

Like you do about Nelson Mandela, you can't help feeling the guy's a good man.

~Ralph Steadman

I have even written a book about Wine called The Grapes of Ralph.

~Ralph Steadman

Man has an innate capacity for violence, but can only justify it in the name of justice.

~Ralph Steadman

The betrayal of people's good will, good trust that things are being done for the best and they actually ARE being done for the best.

~Ralph Steadman

I've done the Rolling Stones eating each other.

~Ralph Steadman

Hunter and I never got proper journalistic accreditation to go anywhere. Nobody was giving us passes to go in here or there. We always had to somehow talk our way in.

~Ralph Steadman

The kids are not brought up to have minds of their own as individuals.

~Ralph Steadman

'Happiness is a Small Politician' - my mantra then and forever more.

~Ralph Steadman

Whores get bow-legged and bankers get mean, which is strange when you think that if whores get bow-legged, bankers should get generous, but they never do.

~Ralph Steadman

Animal Farm has seen off all the opposition. It's as valid today as it was fifty years ago.

~Ralph Steadman

Americans live with the certain knowledge that the source of their greatness has not yet been released.

~Ralph Steadman

There is no truly global justice.

~Ralph Steadman

I am an artist and have no right bugging about with verbs and split infinitives, which is what being a writer says to me.
