

Reverend Malcolm Boyd Quotes

Prayer, Home, Example, Morning, Jesus, Gay, Definitions, Lines, Wish, Fighting, Soil, Real, Night, Opinion, Art, Knees, Vulnerable, Brother, Body, Might

I have glaucoma, so use eye drops both morning and night.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

I find Jesus my confidant and companion, brother and savior; our relationship is intimate, vulnerable, demanding yet comfortable and reassuring.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

By my definition, prayer is consciously hanging out with God. Being with God in a deliberate way.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Seriously, however, I learn a lot about my physical life in the aging and changing of my body.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Real answers need to be found in dialogue and interaction and, yes, our shared human condition. This means being open to one another instead of simply fighting to maintain a prescribed position.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Also, I walk and hike in several different nearby parks near our home several early mornings a week.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Entrenched scriptural literalism is, in my opinion, completely out of touch with reality.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Our essential differences from the norm are both huge and deeply offensive to those among us who wish to be quietly integrated into society without particular reference to our nature.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Jesus is an example. We have other examples, including many of our ancestors as role models who understood the inner meaning of our orientation.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

I have osteoarthritis, which especially affects my knees.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Speaking for myself, my very integrity as a human being needs to include my freedom to explore who I am both spiritually and sexually. Not just to explore - but to practice.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

However one might pray - in any verbal way or completely without words - is unimportant to God. What matters is the heart's intent.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Our prayers must spring from the indigenous soil of our own personal confrontation with the Spirit of God in our lives.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Yet through history gays have always dominated religious life and churches.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

I find in the Psalms much the same range of mood and expression as I perceive within my own life of prayer.

~Reverend Malcolm Boyd

Related Links:

- Prayer Quotes
- Home Quotes
- Example Quotes
- Morning Quotes
- Jesus Quotes
- Gay Quotes
- Definitions Quotes
- Lines Quotes
- Wish Quotes
- Fighting Quotes
- Soil Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Night Quotes
- Opinion Quotes
- Art Quotes
- Knees Quotes
- Vulnerable Quotes
- Brother Quotes
- Body Quotes
- Might Quotes