The interesting thing about Georgia is, Atlanta is teeming with middle-class black people and black people with money - and yet there is still segregation.

~Richard Benjamin

I don't want to live in a monoculture of any kind. I don't want to live in a wealthy monoculture, a black monoculture. I don't want to live in an elitist, progressive monoculture.

~Richard Benjamin

People would say, "You know, Rich, it's nature. Birds of a feather flock together." I have to point out to them that, no, that's not the case.

~Richard Benjamin

I always say that you should remake flops, not hits.

~Richard Benjamin

By 2042, whites will no longer be the American majority.

~Richard Benjamin

With growing and intermixed minority populations, our democracy can not work optimally unless all people are integrated as full and equal members, and I think our collective freedom requires that.

~Richard Benjamin

There is tremendous long-term harm when Americans accept ethnic and class balkanization as a de facto fixture of American life. I think that impoverishes our understanding of each other.

~Richard Benjamin

I concede that segregation can allay social tensions immediately, but it further debilitates us in the long run.

~Richard Benjamin

Of course, there isn't really a black population in Idaho or Utah.

~Richard Benjamin

I hope we have American-topias.
