

Richard Grossman

Quotes

Writing, Thinking, Book, Trying, Unique, Common, Art, Real, Democracy, World, Community, Libertarian, Beautiful, Law, Believe, Two, Wall, Reading, Novelists, Prayer

Salvation is an individual relationship with God. I've always considered myself to be a devotional poet, and I consider myself to be a devotional novelist.

~Richard Grossman

I'm a staunch civil libertarian; I really believe that the individual is more important than any societal value.

~Richard Grossman

I don't think that brutality and idealism are mutually exclusive. It's a common denominator in my work - rabid idealism.

~Richard Grossman

I'm truly an outsider in the poetry world. When I started writing, I was trying to move my poems away from modernist lines.

~Richard Grossman

When you're reading my book, you're not in a four dimensional continuum, you're in my continuum, the Grossman continuum.

~Richard Grossman

I love grand scale. One of the things that everybody mentions is that my novels are beautiful objects in the sense that the elements of the actual book are being extruded and re-contextualized.

~Richard Grossman

If there is anything unique about my writing it is the way that I combine poetry and prose, not just on the level of having a poem here, prose there, but that it really is a true amalgam.

~Richard Grossman

Related Links:

- Writing Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Book Quotes
- Trying Quotes
- Unique Quotes
- Common Quotes
- Art Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Democracy Quotes
- World Quotes
- Community Quotes
- Libertarian Quotes
- Beautiful Quotes
- Law Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Two Quotes
- Wall Quotes
- Reading Quotes
- Novelists Quotes
- Prayer Quotes