Don't let life discourage you; everyone who got where he is had to begin where he was.

~Richard L. Evans

Children will not remember you for the material things you provided but for the feeling that you cherished them.

~Richard L. Evans

Sincere love is something that sacrifices not something that indulges itself. Sincere love is responsible. It would never knowingly hurt, but would heal.

~Richard L. Evans

May we never let the things we can't have or don't have or shouldn't have spoil our enjoyment of the things we do have and can have.

~Richard L. Evans

A person soon learns how little he knows when a child begins to ask questions.

~Richard L. Evans

This is life-and it is passing. What are we waiting for?

~Richard L. Evans

Your direction is more important than your speed.

~Richard L. Evans

Work is the best wonder drug ever devised by God. Work is as necessary to man as eating and sleeping. Pleasure derived from labor is the sweetest of all pleasures.

~Richard L. Evans

One of the greatest accomplishments in this world would be that of lifting human hearts. Blessed are they who are kind and considerate of the feelings of other people.

~Richard L. Evans

What is it that makes us suppose that we can more easily do twice tomorrow what we didn't do once today!

~Richard L. Evans

We should think seriously before we slam doors, before we burn bridges, before we saw off the limb on which we find ourselves sitting.

~Richard L. Evans

Shouldn't the commandments be re-written? No, they should be re-read!

~Richard L. Evans

Give no man sympathy because he has to work - it is his blessing that he can.

~Richard L. Evans

He who has ceased to pray has lost a great friendship.

~Richard L. Evans

Realize that the privilege to work is a gift. Love of work is success. Be thankful that every morning that you get up that you have some thing that must be done (whether you like it or not).

~Richard L. Evans

One of our urgent opportunities is to respond to a child when he earnestly asks, remembering that they don't always ask.

~Richard L. Evans

Keep courage. Whatever you do, do not feel sorry for yourself. You will win in a great age of opportunity.

~Richard L. Evans

There must be a priority of values in all our lives.

~Richard L. Evans

Parents who indulge themselves 'in moderation' may have children who indulge themselves to excess.

~Richard L. Evans

The test of love is in how we live.

~Richard L. Evans

When in the world are we going to begin to live as if we understood that this is life? This is our time, our day...and it is passing. What are we waiting for?

~Richard L. Evans

There's no pillow quite so soft as a father's strong shoulder.

~Richard L. Evans

I don't think anything is unrealistic if you believe you can do it.

~Richard L. Evans

What better can parents and children give to each other than respectful, understanding attention.

~Richard L. Evans

Young people are going to go to someone, somewhere. And we had better see that that 'someone' is us.

~Richard L. Evans

If we don't want temptation to follow us, we shouldn't act as if we are interested. No one ever fell over a precipice who never went near one.

~Richard L. Evans

We must not let the things we can't do keep us from doing the things

we can do.

~Richard L. Evans

Things I don't understand don't destroy my faith in the things I do understand.

~Richard L. Evans

In answer to the question, "Shouldn't the commandments be rewritten?," someone thoughtfully replied, "No, they should be reread."

~Richard L. Evans

We can run away from where we are, but not from what we are.

~Richard L. Evans

We need the courage to start and continue what we should do, and courage to stop what we shouldn't do.

~Richard L. Evans

Too much pessimism has led too many men into making serious mistakes. And perhaps part of our pessimism comes because we are too close to ourselves to see in proper perspective.

~Richard L. Evans

Humor is essential to a full and happy life. It is a reliever and relaxer of pressure and tension, and the saving element in many situations.

~Richard L. Evans

Live so as to have a quiet conscience.

~Richard L. Evans

Whatever you do, do not feel sorry for yourself - things could always be worse and they are for someone else!

~Richard L. Evans

No man is so wise that he cannot benefit by talking things out with others.

~Richard L. Evans

Enjoy life while it is happening.

~Richard L. Evans

Happiness mainly depends on man's ability to work and the way in which he does it.

~Richard L. Evans

Go ahead with your life, your plans.... Don't waste time by stopping before the interruptions have started.

~Richard L. Evans

The interruption we now impatiently put off may be the most important thing we could be doing at this particular time?

~Richard L. Evans

Any man who can't control his thoughts can't control his actions, and any man who can't control his actions isn't safe in society.

~Richard L. Evans

We must carry things beyond conversation to conclusion.

~Richard L. Evans

Someone has to do everything that is done.

~Richard L. Evans

We are what we are, wherever we are.

~Richard L. Evans

Maturity begins on the day we accept responsibility for our own actions.

~Richard L. Evans

A boy is the only known substance from which a man can be made.

~Richard L. Evans

If you don't want temptation to follow you, don't act as if you are interested.

~Richard L. Evans

It is a great moment in life when a father sees a son grow taller than he or reach farther.
