

Rob Delaney

Quotes

People, Laughing, Thinking, Want, Wife, Believe, Years, Relationship, Talking, Comedian, Smell, Cat, Brain, Bird, Things Change, The End Of The Day, Tree, Gratitude, Littles, Dog

Running is special. We've all done it: well, poorly, focused, in fear, being pursued, toward a goal. It's just elemental. Running is like fire.

~Rob Delaney

Cats probably wouldn't need 9 lives if they wore tiny little helmets and didn't smoke cigarettes.

~Rob Delaney

People who concern themselves with the rights of other adults who engage in consensual acts involving sex, love, and/or eating croissants together are damaged and in pain.

~Rob Delaney

I love gay people. Or as I sometimes call them, 'people.'

~Rob Delaney

It's probably not love if you don't press your face to the toilet seat after they've used it to feel their warmth.

~Rob Delaney

If you have an opinion on what other adults do consensually with other adults when they take their pants off, you're a weirdo.

~Rob Delaney

I can't 'make' you love me. But I can fill my pantry with your favourite snacks and offer you a weekly stipend of $75.

~Rob Delaney

I think your ambition for something changes as you go.

~Rob Delaney

It makes me sad that corporations and media and Hollywood conspire to make people feel terrible about their bodies from the second they wake up ,so I sort of try to subversively undercut that.

~Rob Delaney

It's hard for me to get embarrassed, but the things that do embarrass me would be if anybody ever heard my wife and I talking in our robust, made-up language.

~Rob Delaney

On stage, I'm me. I'm a husband, I'm a dad, I'm a guy, I'm a mess - but I am a cohesive thing that you recognize as one human entity saying these things that he generally believes.

~Rob Delaney

It's a good idea to have a break, to let your mind rest and so you can start to cultivate ideas.

~Rob Delaney

I no longer believe in freedom of speech.

~Rob Delaney

Don't even FRONT like you love your family, America, or God, if you don't have a DETAILED & REHEARSED Black Friday tactical shopping plan.

~Rob Delaney

In real life, I am alarmingly boring.

~Rob Delaney

I'm a comedian at the beginning and the end of the day. I'm not affiliated with any campaign, nor do I generally find politics interesting enough to plan to be involved.

~Rob Delaney

My stand-up is far more rooted in reality than my Twitter.

~Rob Delaney

Politicians, it's in their job description to just lie, every day.

~Rob Delaney

Comedians who are 22 years old can certainly be funny and clever, and be capable of telling jokes - but are they talking about their favorite TV shows, or a particular brand of shampoo?

~Rob Delaney

I had always loved comedy, and acted out Steve Martin and Bill Cosby albums with my sister for my parents on road trips and stuff, and I loved to laugh and make people laugh.

~Rob Delaney

In the ambiguity and shifting playing field of adult life, I often wish I could just fill in a dot and have someone say "Yes" and hand me a chicken leg, or "No" and slap me with an old fish.

~Rob Delaney

I hate wearing suits and ties.

~Rob Delaney

People moved in across the street and are immediately cutting down a huge tree. Their toothbrushes will know my buttonhole.

~Rob Delaney

I use Twitter as a tool to get involved with people, to sell tickets to gigs where I can stand in a room and smell the audience - and I love that!

~Rob Delaney

I want people to feel good about themselves.

~Rob Delaney

I'm crazy about Shakespeare, who was a notorious word inventor. And my wife is an English teacher, and she's hilarious.

~Rob Delaney

With Twitter, you just want to make people laugh in their meeting; on stage, people have paid for their tickets with their hard-earned money, so I owe them the truth as I experience it.

~Rob Delaney

On Twitter, I just want to make you laugh at all costs.

~Rob Delaney

Well, Mitt Romney is a very attractive comedic target. He's irresistible to me. I mean seriously, I want to pay less attention to him.

~Rob Delaney

Depression taught me the importance of compassion and hard work, and that you can overcome enormous obstacles.

~Rob Delaney

But I also know in standup, there's nowhere to hide. You get on stage and you deliver, or you are eviscerated and you are thrown into a pile of bodies at the bottom of a mountain.

~Rob Delaney

Elderly people, I have found, when they're being honest, are also scumbags, and enjoy a little prurient humour as well.

~Rob Delaney

People say that the largest sexual organ is the brain, and I think the fact that they definitely amuse each other is probably the strongest glue in that relationship.

~Rob Delaney

I'm endlessly fascinated by parenting, marriage, my wife and the ins and outs of marriage.

~Rob Delaney

In high school, I definitely fancied myself an intense guy, which is so lame.

~Rob Delaney

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Laughing Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Wife Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Relationship Quotes
- Talking Quotes
- Comedian Quotes
- Smell Quotes
- Cat Quotes
- Brain Quotes
- Bird Quotes
- Things Change Quotes
- The End Of The Day Quotes
- Tree Quotes
- Gratitude Quotes
- Littles Quotes
- Dog Quotes