By working faithfully eight hours a day you may eventually get to be boss and work twelve hours a day.

~Robert Frost

In three words I can sum up everything I've learned about life: it goes on.

~Robert Frost

The best way out is always through.

~Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a wood and I - I took the one less traveled by, and that has made all the difference.

~Robert Frost

But I have promises to keep, and miles to go before I sleep, and miles to go before I sleep.

~Robert Frost

Half the world is composed of people who have something to say and can't, and the other half who have nothing to say and keep on saying it.

~Robert Frost

Live life like its the last breath you take for that breath is the whole essence of living, the little things in life are what connects us to all the big things we live for

~Robert Frost

Education is the ability to listen to almost anything without losing your temper or your self-confidence.

~Robert Frost

A diplomat is a man who always remembers a woman's birthday but never remembers her age.

~Robert Frost

Before I built a wall I'd ask to know what I was walling in or walling out.

~Robert Frost

Poetry is when an emotion has found its thought and the thought has found words.

~Robert Frost

Forgive me my nonsense, as I also forgive the nonsense of those that think they talk sense.

~Robert Frost

If we couldn't laugh we would all go insane.

~Robert Frost

Freedom lies in being bold.

~Robert Frost

I hold it to be the inalienable right of anybody to go to hell in his own way.

~Robert Frost

A mother takes twenty years to make a man of her boy, and another woman makes a fool of him in twenty minutes.

~Robert Frost

The brain is a wonderful organ; it starts working the moment you get up in the morning and does not stop until you get into the office.

~Robert Frost

I end not far from my going forth
By picking the faded blue
Of the last remaining aster flower
To carry again to you.

~Robert Frost

Nature is always hinting at us. It hints over and over again. And suddenly we take the hint.

~Robert Frost

Good fences make good neighbors.

~Robert Frost

Love is an irresistible desire to be irresistibly desired.

~Robert Frost

My sorrow, when she's here with me, thinks these dark days of autumn rain are beautiful as days can be; she loves the bare, the withered tree; she walks the sodden pasture lane.

~Robert Frost

The reason why worry kills more people than work is that more people worry than work.

~Robert Frost

The world is full of willing people; some willing to work, the rest willing to let them.

~Robert Frost

Any eye is an evil eye That looks in on to a mood apart.

~Robert Frost

The woods are lovely, dark, and deep but I have promises to keep...

~Robert Frost

I'm not a teacher, but an awakener.

~Robert Frost

The Vermont mountains stretch extended straight; New Hampshire mountains curl up in a coil.

~Robert Frost

Don't ever take a fence down until you know why it was put up.

~Robert Frost

I have never started a poem yet whose end I knew. Writing a poem is discovering.

~Robert Frost

The rain to the wind said, 'You push and I'll pelt.' They so smote the garden bed That the flowers actually knelt, And lay lodged--though not dead. I know how the flowers felt.

~Robert Frost

Come grow old with me, for the best is yet to come!

~Robert Frost

What makes a nation in the beginning is a good piece of geography.

~Robert Frost

How many things have to happen to you before something occurs to you?

~Robert Frost

There never was any heart truly great and generous, that was not also tender and compassionate.

~Robert Frost

You don't have to deserve your mother's love. You have to deserve your father's. He's more particular. The father is always a Republican towards his son, and his mother's always a Democrat.

~Robert Frost

All great things are done for their own sake.

~Robert Frost

You're searching... For things that don't exist; I mean beginnings. Ends and beginnings - there are no such things. There are only middles.

~Robert Frost

A bank is a place where they lend you an umbrella in fair weather and ask for it back when it begins to rain.

~Robert Frost

O hushed October morning mild, Begin the hours of this day slow,
Make the day seem to us less brief... Retard the sun with gentle mist;
Enchant the land with amethyst.

~Robert Frost

Whose woods these are I think I know. His house is in the village though; He will not see me stopping here To watch his woods fill up with snow.

~Robert Frost

The afternoon knows what the morning never suspected.

~Robert Frost

Hope is not found in a way out but a way through.

~Robert Frost

Forgive, O Lord, my little jokes on Thee, and I'll forgive Thy great big joke on me.

~Robert Frost

Something we were withholding made us weak, until we found it was ourselves.

~Robert Frost

Poets are like baseball pitchers. Both have their moments. The intervals are the tough things.

~Robert Frost

What is required is sight and insight- then you might add one more: excite.

~Robert Frost

I'm not confused. I'm just well mixed.

~Robert Frost

Far more violence has been done in obeying the law than in breaking the law.

~Robert Frost

A poem begins as a lump in the throat, a sense of wrong, a homesickness, a lovesickness.

~Robert Frost

We dance round in a ring and suppose, but the secret sits in the middle and knows.

~Robert Frost

Always fall in with what you're asked to accept. Take what is given, and make it over your way. My aim in life has always been to hold my own with whatever's going. Not against: with.

~Robert Frost

Happiness makes up in height for what it lacks in length.

~Robert Frost

College is a refuge from hasty judgment.

~Robert Frost

I have miles to go before I sleep.

~Robert Frost

Unless you are educated in metaphor, you are not safe to be let loose in the world.

~Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth.

~Robert Frost

Poetry is what is lost in translation. It is also what is lost in interpretation.

~Robert Frost

The difference between a job and a career is the difference between forty and sixty hours a week.

~Robert Frost

Keep all ur troubles in ur own pocket. But, make sure that the pocket has a hole!

~Robert Frost

It's a funny thing that when a man hasn't anything on earth to worry about, he goes off and gets married.

~Robert Frost

Some say the world will end in fire, some say in ice.

~Robert Frost

Two such as you with such a master speed, cannot be parted nor be swept away, from one another once you are agreed, that life is only life forevermore, together wing to wing and oar to oar.

~Robert Frost

A person will sometimes devote all his life to the development of one part of his body - the wishbone.

~Robert Frost

The way a crow
Shook down on me
The dust of snow
From a hemlock tree
Has given my heart
A change of mood
And saved some part
Of a day I had rued.

~Robert Frost

The artist in me cries out for design.

~Robert Frost

Thinking is not to agree or disagree. That's voting.

~Robert Frost

The father is always a Republican toward his son, and his mother's always a Democrat.

The sun was warm but the wind was chill. You know how it is with an April day.

~Robert Frost

One could do worse than be a swinger of birches.

~Robert Frost

A civilized society is one which tolerates eccentricity to the point of doubtful sanity.

~Robert Frost

Before I built a wall I'd ask to know What I was walling in or walling out,
And to whom I was like to give offence. Something there is that doesn't love a wall, That wants it down.

~Robert Frost

Butterflies...flowers that fly and all but sing.

~Robert Frost

Education doesn't change life much. It just lifts trouble to a higher plane of regard.

~Robert Frost

All thought is a feat of association; having what's in front of you bring up something in your mind that you almost didn't know you knew

~Robert Frost

You've got to be brave and you've got to be bold. Brave enough to take your chance on your own discrimination, what's right and what's wrong, what's good and what's bad.

~Robert Frost

You don't have to deserve your mother's love. You have to deserve your father's.

~Robert Frost

Here are your waters and your watering place. Drink and be whole again beyond confusion.
