If you want to become good at something, do it as often as possible. If you want to become an expert at it, do it every day.

~Robert Ringer

The cost of procrastination is generally far greater than the cost of making mistakes.

~Robert Ringer

You can never be free until you develop the mental strength to stop fretting over things you cannot control.

~Robert Ringer

Everything changes for the better when you take ownership of your own problems.

~Robert Ringer

It's not stress that kills people, but how they react to it.

~Robert Ringer

Success is a matter of understanding and religiously practicing specific, simple habits that always lead to success.

~Robert Ringer

People say they love truth, but in reality they want to believe that which they love is true.

~Robert Ringer

Reality isn't the way you wish things to be nor the way they appear to be but the way they actually are.

~Robert Ringer

The greed and envy of the nonproducer is insatiable, so that eventually nothing short of 100% taxation will appease him.

~Robert Ringer

The desire to impress others is one of the worst forms of mental imprisonment.

~Robert Ringer

Can you buy friendship? You not only can, you must. It's the only way to obtain friends. Everything worthwhile has a price.

~Robert Ringer

The best way to let others know what you're going to do is to actually do it.

~Robert Ringer

You can have a strong government and a weak people, or strong people and weak government, but you cannot have both.

~Robert Ringer

Theory is good for the intellect, but action is good for the soul. It's also good for your mental health, your physical health, and your pocketbook.

~Robert Ringer

Surround yourself with problem solvers, not problem creators.

~Robert Ringer

There's a basic human weakness inherent in all people which tempts them to bitterly want what they can't have and ungratefully not want what is readily available to them.

~Robert Ringer

I do firmly believe that universal forces are at work that pull us inexorably toward the deserving results of our actions.

~Robert Ringer

With a written agreement you have a prayer; with a verbal agreement

you have nothing but air.

~Robert Ringer

Assumption Theory: The only safe assumption in life is that the person who assures you that everything is all right is all wrong.

~Robert Ringer

The bolder the action, the greater the genius, magic and power that is likely to flow from it.

~Robert Ringer

Life-complication Theory: Given a choice between an easy solution and a complicated one, the loser will usually opt to travel the complicated path. Don't ignore a solution just because it's simple!

~Robert Ringer

The results you produce in life are inversely proportional to the degree to which you are intimidated.

~Robert Ringer

What unleashes action is an individual's willingness to make mistakes - even to look foolish or stupid.

~Robert Ringer

If you are prepared, then you are able to feel confident.

~Robert Ringer

Don't become a slave to non-crucial matters.

~Robert Ringer

If ever there was an area in which to do the exact opposite of that which government and the media urge you to do, that area is the purchasing of gold.

~Robert Ringer

Concentrate on doing what you do best, and let others do the rest.

~Robert Ringer

Question everything, even if it represents generations of conventional wisdom.

~Robert Ringer

Thinking is action..... but there is nothing on this earth as powerful as consistent, bold, physical action.

~Robert Ringer

A quality such as self-esteem is a result of practicing good human relations.

~Robert Ringer

A lynch mob is [unlimited] Majority Rule stripped of its fancy trappings and its facade of respectability.

~Robert Ringer

When the ball is on the one-yard line, never risk a fumble. Carry it over yourself.
