Do you think it's possible to finally decide that you really, truly love someone but not end up marrying him?

~Robin Jones Gunn

I look back now and realize that the gift of a true friend is that she sees you not the way you see yourself or the way others see you. A true friend sees you for who you are and who you can become.

~Robin Jones Gunn

We all need to have dreams. The question is, does the dream control you or do you control the dream?

~Robin Jones Gunn

If there's one thing I've learned, it's that God is a very creative author, and He writes a different story for every person. No two lives or stories alike.

~Robin Jones Gunn

When the devil comes knocking on your door simply say "Jesus, it's for you."

~Robin Jones Gunn

Bad friends could ruin your whole life. Be wise when it comes to choosing your friends. You set the standard. You be the one who stands strong. Don't be a follower.

~Robin Jones Gunn

[When it comes to God] We can't run out of second chances...only time.

~Robin Jones Gunn

When one heart opens to another heart, it usually results in love.

~Robin Jones Gunn

Take it and be thankful.

~Robin Jones Gunn

Sometimes the best answers to prayer are the ones God doesn't answer.

~Robin Jones Gunn

There are 365 "fear nots" in the Bible. One for every day of the year. Today I will fear not.

~Robin Jones Gunn

It's funny whom we end up choosing to love and who ends up choosing to love us. It's rarely the people we think it should be.

~Robin Jones Gunn

I think it's possible to realize you love someone as deeply as you know how to love and not end up spending the rest of your life with him.

~Robin Jones Gunn

When in doubt chicken out.

~Robin Jones Gunn

Based on personal experience and not just on theory, Prayerwalk, offers readers practical insights on how to get up, get moving, and get praying. The results can be life changing.

~Robin Jones Gunn

Then Circled by the golden light of God's Presence and His promise, Paul and Sierra walked side by side along the trail that lead toward the campus and on toward their Future

~Robin Jones Gunn

If God gave us everything we asked for, we'd be in chaos.

~Robin Jones Gunn

If you feel far from God, guess who moved?
