I have no Napoleonic dream. I'm just hard-working and pragmatic.

~Roman Abramovich

In Moscow I feel most comfortable. I'm used to four different seasons; it's difficult for people in London to understand. People brought up in Russia like my kids want to play in the snow.

~Roman Abramovich

I'm realising my dream of owning a top football club. Some will doubt my motives, others will think I'm crazy.

~Roman Abramovich

My feeling would be that you lose something of the beauty of the Premiership by joining something not defined at the moment.

~Roman Abramovich

Investors have very short memories

~Roman Abramovich

How are the germs made into a ring? By adding and multiplying.

~Roman Abramovich

To tell the truth I cannot call my childhood bad. In your childhood you can't compare things: one eats carrots, one eats candy, both taste good. As a child you cannot tell the difference.

~Roman Abramovich

The polynomial  $x^n + 1$  is a force of nature.

~Roman Abramovich

I love this game, I love this sport, I love this league. Why don't I get my own team? (English Premiership football club)

~Roman Abramovich

Our strategy [at Chelsea] is to bring up our own players through the academy, which we have invested a lot in, and hope it gives results

~Roman Abramovich

If I had to think where I could live if not Moscow, London would be my first choice and second would be New York.

~Roman Abramovich

I myself never make any notes. Usually, if I write something down, I can't read it afterwards.

~Roman Abramovich

In my personal opinion, Russia is no less democratic than it used to be. It is a democratic country. It is democratic enough.

~Roman Abramovich

We will be spending less in the transfer market in future years.

~Roman Abramovich

I don't know if the police of naming statements would agree with this.
