Strikers are egotists, selfish. We have to be.

~Romario

I have scored against every team, every country, every defender in the world.

~Romario

I have my way of doing things.

~Romario

There's nothing I like more than football ...except for sex.

~Romario

The night has always been my friend. When I go out I feel good, then I always score goals.

~Romario

Messi has all the conditions to be the best.

~Romario

If someone criticizes me, I strike back.

~Romario

When I sleep to much I don't score. That's the reason I like to go out a lot.

~Romario

The coach should keep out of the way... He is an important figure, of course, but is more likely to lose a match than win it. Matches are won by players.

~Romario

Will I become a coach in the future? No way. I'd never be able to put up with someone like me.

~Romario

I'm genuine and people can believe what I say.

~Romario

Officially I'm not playing any more. I've stopped. My time is up. Everything has been a lot of fun.

~Romario

God created me to delight people with my goals.

~Romario

I'm inspired by challenges. My life was always like this.

~Romario

I pay my own bills. I feel my own pain.

~Romario

I am not happy to play for Barcelona, but Barcelona should be happy that I play there.

~Romario

In my private life I do what I like. The night is my friend. If I don't go out, I don't score.

~Romario

We Brazilians, happily or unhappily, leave a lot to the last minute.

~Romario

I'm like any Brazilian: I like to go out and enjoy myself.

~Romario

I'll never forget my friends and where I came from.

~Romario

I'm happy because I won't have to train again, or travel or sit in team hotels.
