Stem cell research can revolutionize medicine, more than anything since antibiotics.

~Ron Reagan

I couldn't join a party that, frankly, tolerates members who are bigots for one thing, homophobes, racists.

~Ron Reagan

We have three cats. It's like having children, but there is no tuition involved.

~Ron Reagan

I admire the fact that the central core of Buddhist teaching involves mindfulness and loving kindness and compassion.

~Ron Reagan

Now, ignorance is one thing, ignorance can be cured. But many of the Republican leaders opposing this research know better.

~Ron Reagan

I have to say that flying on Air Force One sort of spoils you for coach on a regular airline.

~Ron Reagan

You cannot be against embryonic stem cell research and be intellectually and therefore morally consistent, if you're not also against in vitro fertilization.

~Ron Reagan

When you hear somebody justifying a war by citing the Almighty, I get a little worried, frankly.

~Ron Reagan

My wife and I just prefer Seattle. It's a beautiful city. Great setting. You open your front door in the morning and the air smells like pine and the sea, as opposed to bus exhaust.

~Ron Reagan

People who believe they are acting with the mandate of God, who see others who don't share their beliefs as inferior in the eyes of God, make dangerous leaders. Just ask Osama Bin Laden.

~Ron Reagan

Neither of my parents would ever stand in the way of any of their children speaking their minds.

~Ron Reagan

I would be unelectable. I'm an atheist. As we all know, that is something people won't accept.

~Ron Reagan

What do you say to your sister who poses in the nude? It's not like you are really itching to see photographs of your sister naked. I mean, it's just something that is not too exciting.

~Ron Reagan

My father felt that children should make their own way.

~Ron Reagan

We can choose between the future and the past, between reason and ignorance, between true compassion and mere ideology.

~Ron Reagan

He never stopped wanting to save the world.

~Ron Reagan

He had written my mother once that he wanted her to be the first thing he saw every morning and the last thing he ever saw. And that's how it turned out.

~Ron Reagan

Dad was also a deeply, unabashedly religious man... , But he never made the fatal mistake of so many politicians - wearing his faith on his sleeve to gain political advantage.

~Ron Reagan

I've never joined any political party and have no plans to do so. I'm fully independent.

~Ron Reagan

My father didn't know George W. Bush from Adam.

~Ron Reagan

The big elephant sitting in the corner is that George W. Bush is simply unqualified for the job. What's his accomplishment? That he's no longer an obnoxious drunk?
