Life isn't a matter of milestones, but of moments.

~Rose Kennedy

It has been said, 'time heals all wounds.' I do not agree. The wounds remain. In time, the mind, protecting its sanity, covers them with scar tissue and the pain lessens. But it is never gone.

~Rose Kennedy

I do not like candid pictures. They are so unattractive.

~Rose Kennedy

I have always believed that God never gives a cross to bear larger than we can carry. No matter what, he wants us to be happy, not sad. birds sing after a storm. Why shouldn't we?

~Rose Kennedy

Birds sing after a storm; why shouldn't people feel as free to delight in whatever remains to them?

~Rose Kennedy

I tell myself that God gave my children many gifts - spirit, beauty, intelligence, the capacity to make friends and to inspire respect. There was only one gift he held back - length of life.

~Rose Kennedy

it is not tears but determination that makes pain bearable.

~Rose Kennedy

I tried to allow my children to take risks, to test themselves. Better broken bones than broken spirit.

~Rose Kennedy

Life is not a matter of milestones, but moments.

~Rose Kennedy

Make sure you never, never argue at night. You just lose a good night's sleep, and you can't settle anything until morning anyway.

~Rose Kennedy

Birds sing after a storm. Why shouldn't we?

~Rose Kennedy

Money is never to be squandered or spent ostentatiously. Some of the greatest people in history have lived lives of the greatest simplicity. Remember it's the you inside that counts.

~Rose Kennedy

Prosperity tries the fortunate, adversity the great.

~Rose Kennedy

There can be no really pervasive system of oppression, such as that in the United States, without the consent of the oppressed

~Rose Kennedy

It's wrong for parents to bury their children. It should be the other way around.

~Rose Kennedy

Neither comprehension nor learning can take place in an atmosphere of anxiety.

~Rose Kennedy

I have come to the conclusion that the most important element in human life is faith.

~Rose Kennedy

The time will come when it will disgust you to look in the mirror.

~Rose Kennedy

I don't think you're much good, unless you're doing good to someone.

~Rose Kennedy

In my life, I am often reminded that there is a destiny that rules over us, because no one whom I know about or whom I read about seems to be completely happy during a long time.

~Rose Kennedy

Modern candidates seem to have to live with political matters all the time. In my father's time, a politician's home was still his castle.

~Rose Kennedy

I've had an exciting time; I married for love and got a little money along with it.

~Rose Kennedy

More business is lost every year through neglect than through any other cause.

~Rose Kennedy

Sedentary people are apt to have sluggish minds. A sluggish mind is apt to be reflected in flabbiness of body and in a dullness of expression that invites no interest and gets none.

~Rose Kennedy

I would much rather be known as the mother of a great son than the author of a great book or the painter of a great masterpiece.

~Rose Kennedy

I'm like old wine. They don't bring me out very often, but I'm well preserved.

~Rose Kennedy

There's nothing I like less than bad arguments for a view that I hold

dear.

~Rose Kennedy

It is selfish to concern oneself with tragedies.

~Rose Kennedy

I'm one of the most fortunate people in the world.

~Rose Kennedy

What greater aspiration and challenge are there for a mother than the hope of raising a great son or daughter?

~Rose Kennedy

Life isn't about milestones, it's about moment

~Rose Kennedy

I am just an old-fashioned girl.

~Rose Kennedy

I know not age, nor weariness nor defeat.

~Rose Kennedy

No one will ever feel sorry for me.

~Rose Kennedy

My father was a great innovator in public life, but when it came to raising his daughters, no one could have been more conservative.
