I came out of the womb waving red lipstick.

~Rose McGowan

From a really young age, I was into female empowerment and supporting the underdog. Right now, I'm into female vengeance.

~Rose McGowan

The awesome thing about being an artist? You can't be fired from your own mind.

~Rose McGowan

It's my job to spread deviance to the American youth.

~Rose McGowan

I still say I can do whatever I want as long as I'm not hurting anybody else. I don't understand why more people aren't like that.

~Rose McGowan

I think working with artists is incredibly important for everybody in the world, but also, it is a way of seeing the world differently.

~Rose McGowan

I think if I had lived back in Salem, I would have been burned at the stake

~Rose McGowan

Why should I downplay myself to make someone else more comfortable?

~Rose McGowan

It wasn't that I was shy to go out with him, I just didn't want people with preconceived notions to assume anything about why we were together. I was pretty careful for a while.

~Rose McGowan

I'm a pussycat unless you do something to one of my friends. Then I'll think of unique ways to get back at you. I'm more creative than your average bear.

~Rose McGowan

I don't know how exactly but I'm maybe perverse in the sense that I like being disappointed in something on a daily basis. Because it means that I'm still not jaded.

~Rose McGowan

A lot of times when you do things where you're killing people, the character is always having an existential crisis about it. It's fun to be no-holds-barred and have no big crisis of conscious.

~Rose McGowan

I think I ran so hard and so fast, in a lot of ways, from my life and I kind of took a fall. It was like - what do they call it? - post-traumatic stress syndrome.

~Rose McGowan

I don't believe in rules. I would be happy to be climbing a pyramid when I'm 70. And I know I will be.

~Rose McGowan

I've had, like, four long-term boyfriends. I tend to be in relationships for long periods of time.

~Rose McGowan

That's my takeaway from 'Scream' - I know I can fit in dog doors. You have to jimmy your body in a certain position and really hope you're not wearing something super fancy.

~Rose McGowan

I've seen many actors go awry by making the wrong choices early on.

~Rose McGowan

I was up watching Meet Joe Black at four AM. I was hoping Brad Pitt would die, and he was still alive at seven forty in the morning! I actually felt sorry for once, for critics.

~Rose McGowan

I am going to be pretty kick a$$ by the time I'm thirty, and I can't wait!!

~Rose McGowan

I always thought I was more satanic than Manson.

~Rose McGowan

While I learned, I hid out largely in the gay community, and overall it kept me very safe.

~Rose McGowan

If one person starts crying, I'll cry. If one person has no money, I'll give them mine. If I had a bicycle growing up, I always felt incredibly guilty when I see someone sitting at the bus stop.

~Rose McGowan

Quentin Tarantino is controlled insanity, I would say. He's very loud and fun. I don't think there's anybody on the planet like him that I have ever met.

~Rose McGowan

I literally feel pity for a lot of the stupid idiots that I have to deal with.

~Rose McGowan

This hetero - normative behavior and herd mentality is dangerous. It's okay to be different.

~Rose McGowan

I moved from Italy to Oregon in the '80s - sort of like moving to the middle of a "Duck Dynasty" episode, which was massive culture shock to say the least.

~Rose McGowan

I see so much beauty in people and in the world and when I see ugliness I try to either expose it or fight but also remind myself that it's mostly just people who can't spell who say mean things.

~Rose McGowan

I really prize my freedom more than work. I prize just being human and doing other things.

~Rose McGowan

I love shooting guns. I would never shoot an animal or hunt, but I probably would be a very good hit woman. It's hand-in-glove for me.

~Rose McGowan

I don't mind being disliked - I will be the one to step up and say what needs to be said if it helps one woman who comes after me.

~Rose McGowan

You have to be at the forefront of culture to create art, which they call "product," and Hollywood is not. It's this very old business model, which I think is dying in a lot of ways.

~Rose McGowan

I kind of grew breasts overnight and then the world got really loud.

~Rose McGowan

You have to work to carve out your own little corner, and I'm certainly smacking my head against the wall trying to make a dent. I just hope I don't get brain-damaged before I get there

~Rose McGowan

I realized a career is built as much on what you don't do as what you do do.

~Rose McGowan

I love Cate Blanchett: she takes risks, but is still refind.

~Rose McGowan

I would like Obama to be tougher on going up against the Republicans, I don't think he should try to be so moderate.

~Rose McGowan

I like people who are fit. I figure if I work out, you can at least return the favor. Would I go out with a meathead? No.

~Rose McGowan

Gosh, if I'm gonna take a big stand on something I would hope it would be for more than flip flops!

~Rose McGowan

Some people do have a very innate sexuality to them. I may or may not have it, but it makes people see you in a certain light that has nothing to do with me.

~Rose McGowan

I love the absurd - kind of absurdist comedy, absurd things in life.

~Rose McGowan

One of my goals is to create more art to put out there in the world.

~Rose McGowan

There are some movies that I absolutely hate but someone else loves - people love things for different reasons.

~Rose McGowan

I live a very international life, but when I come back to Hollywood, a town I love in a lot of ways, I have to wonder, "What decade are you in? Like, seriously, what decade? It's not this one."

~Rose McGowan

The fear is that talking back, that engaging at all, is to open the door for god-knows-what.

~Rose McGowan

I was never nervous directing. Not once. I'm more nervous acting. I'm far more nervous on set, before I say my lines, than I ever have been, as a director.

~Rose McGowan

Why are women still this underclass? If we all banded together...

~Rose McGowan

Short-sightedness is killing us.

~Rose McGowan

It's interesting when you go out into the world and see which of your roles have affected people.

~Rose McGowan

There have been a lot of murders and suicides in my family; it's like the primary cause of death. I wonder if there's a certain energy that attracts that.

~Rose McGowan

There's nothing wrong with being an agitator.

~Rose McGowan

The fact that I still want the best for the world is kind of amazing. People slandered me for years and years and years. I would say to them, "Thanks for having a closed mind".

~Rose McGowan

Heterosexual men terrified me. I found them to be dangerous. Not all of them, of course, but it took me some time to learn to be comfortable.

~Rose McGowan

Hollywood is all about making an entrance. I don't want to be a walking advertisement for anyone other than myself.

~Rose McGowan

I never started out trying to be an actor. That was not my passion, this was not my thing.

~Rose McGowan

I think gay marriage should be the national law.

~Rose McGowan

I'm not attracted to dangerous men. I'm attracted, apparently, to height. One ex was 6'6; the one before was 6'4, then 6'3. I like freakishly tall people.
