In real life, I don't fall in love with the guy who wines and dines me, I fall in love with the flaws and the humanity.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I don't want to put a pause on the rest of my life; I'm really enjoying getting older and the wisdom that comes from that.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I like exploring both the light parts and the dark parts of a single person. And all of those shades tend to come out most acutely in stories about families.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I kind of moved out of the town I grew up in as quick as I could. I left right after high school.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I'm always studying something or trying to learn something, keep myself creatively occupied, because I think that energy can get kind of destructive if it doesn't have somewhere to go.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

We have our whole lives to try and get a glimpse of what that could be, in our own life. It's so exciting.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

And I think a lot of us have fantasies of going back to where we're from, or when we do go back we're so nostalgic about it.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I love the crazy sex and the awkward situations.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I read something about, "Why do actresses get plastic surgery," we like to look at pretty people, but I don't. I like to look at all faces, young, old.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

Actors are always weird about acting with their spouse or their boyfriend or girlfriend, but more because they think audiences will find it boring.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

For me, there are a lot of things you can imagine as an actor, and then there are things that you know in your bones and in your cells once they happen to you.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I feel lucky to be an actor because you always learn something from each part you play.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I grew up in the suburbs.

~Rosemarie DeWitt

I think actors always have that fear of unemployment so when the opportunities are there, you just jump on them.
