The kind of beauty I want most is the hard-to-get kind that comes from within - strength, courage, dignity.

~Ruby Dee

The greatest gift is not being afraid to question.

~Ruby Dee

God, make me so uncomfortable that I will do the very thing I fear.

~Ruby Dee

Revolutionaries don't get job security.

~Ruby Dee

The world has improved mostly because unorthodox people did unorthodox things. Not surprisingly, they had the courage and daring to think they could make a difference.

~Ruby Dee

Art is in the process of redefining our relationships to each other ... The creative minds are bubbling, bubbling, and I know the soup that's coming up next time is going to feed a lot more of us.

~Ruby Dee

You meet all kinds of people that help put life in perspective and turn the horror into some kind of lesson or avenue of awakening that lives with you all your days.

~Ruby Dee

Among whom the gods bless, high on the list are the music people, who tune into celestial vibrations and give mortals a taste of immortal sensations.

~Ruby Dee

The divorce rate would be lower if instead of marrying for better or worse people would marry for good.

~Ruby Dee

Classism and greed are making insignificant all the other kinds of isms.

~Ruby Dee

That we arrived at fifty years together is due as much to luck as to love, and a talent for knowing, when we stumble, where to fall, and how to get up again.

~Ruby Dee

Paradise is to be the ultimate instrument, fulfilling God's desperate intent that we love each other.

~Ruby Dee

When you know my love, my love will warm you.

~Ruby Dee

Revolutionaries don't get job security. They compete with rats for cheese and with strays for shelter--after the big bullets make feet out of their knees.

~Ruby Dee

Sorrow for not understanding like I understand now the unpredictable, profound journey that marriage is.

~Ruby Dee

You have to learn how to be married. You have to learn to love somebody.

~Ruby Dee

OK, boss, I don't mind shuffling, but I won't scratch my head.
