The world is changing very fast. Big will not beat small anymore. It will be the fast beating the slow.

~Rupert Murdoch

I challenge anybody to show me an example of bias in Fox News Channel.

~Rupert Murdoch

We certainly employ a lot of immigrants at Fox... and we do not take any consistent anti-immigrant line.

~Rupert Murdoch

Since when are Egyptians not white? All I know are.

~Rupert Murdoch

News - communicating news and ideas, I guess - is my passion. And giving people alternatives so that they have two papers to read (and) alternative television channels.

~Rupert Murdoch

The Internet has been the most fundamental change during my lifetime and for hundreds of years.

~Rupert Murdoch

Monopoly is a terrible thing, till you have it.

~Rupert Murdoch

When you're a catalyst for change, you make enemies - and I'm proud of the ones I've got.

~Rupert Murdoch

[Falling pound] makes us more competitive.

~Rupert Murdoch

Successful workers will be those who embrace a lifetime of learning. Those who don't will be left behind.

~Rupert Murdoch

Maybe most Moslems peaceful, but until they recognize and destroy their growing jihadist cancer they must be held responsible.

~Rupert Murdoch

In motivating people, you've got to engage their minds and their hearts. I motivate people, I hope, by example - and perhaps by excitement, by having productive ideas to make others feel involved.

~Rupert Murdoch

I'm a catalyst for change. You can't be an outsider and be successful over 30 years without leaving a certain amount of scar tissue around the place.

~Rupert Murdoch

Climate change poses clear, catastrophic threats. We may not agree on the extent, but we certainly can't afford the risk of inaction.

~Rupert Murdoch

Money is not the motivating force. It's nice to have money, but I don't live high. What I enjoy is running the business.

~Rupert Murdoch

You can't build a strong corporation with a lot of committees and a board that has to be consulted every turn. You have to be able to make decisions on your own.

~Rupert Murdoch

The buck stops with the guy who signs the checks.

~Rupert Murdoch

Can we change the world? No, but hell, we can all try.

~Rupert Murdoch

I'm considered homophobic and crazy about these things and old fashioned. But I think that the family - father, mother, children - is fundamental to our civilisation.

~Rupert Murdoch

I think a newspaper should be provocative, stir 'em up, but you can't do that on television. It's just not on.

~Rupert Murdoch

I have to admit that, until recently, I was somewhat wary of the (global) warming debate. I believe it is now our responsibility to take the lead on this issue.

~Rupert Murdoch

The buck stops with me, but I can tick off dozens of very good senior executives that are responsible for hundreds or thousands of people who work for me.

~Rupert Murdoch

It's a libel to say that I use my newspapers to support my other business interests. The fact is, I haven't got any other business interests.

~Rupert Murdoch

Why is Jewish owned press so consistently anti-Israel in every crisis?

~Rupert Murdoch

You've got to look for a gap, where competitors in a market have grown lazy and lost contact with the readers or the viewers.

~Rupert Murdoch

We need to push ourselves to make as many reductions as possible in our own energy use first - and that takes time. But we must do this quickly - the climate will not wait for us.

~Rupert Murdoch

Satellite broadcasting makes it possible for information-hungry residents of many closed societies to bypass state-controlled television channels.

~Rupert Murdoch

I'm not a knee-jerk conservative. I passionately believe in free markets and less government, but not to the point of being a libertarian.

~Rupert Murdoch

One thing I resent is the slur that I just support political candidates because of the business.

~Rupert Murdoch

Our reputation is more important than the last hundred million dollars.

~Rupert Murdoch

Much of what passes for quality on British television is no more than a reflection of the narrow elite which controls it and has always thought that its tastes were synonymous with quality.

~Rupert Murdoch

I am amazed that CNN can't get its act together.

~Rupert Murdoch

We've got to get rid of the fear of failure in this country. In America, people start things, fail and shake themselves down and start things again. The animal spirit of capitalism is stronger there.

~Rupert Murdoch

I think everyone's against abortion.

~Rupert Murdoch

I would like to be remembered, if I am remembered at all, as being a catalyst for change in the world, change for good.

~Rupert Murdoch

[on Brexit] It's time for change. I just hope the right people give the right leadership.

~Rupert Murdoch

I think it [Brexit] is wonderful. We've got to decide in this country who we are. We made a momentous decision. It's a bit like a prison break.

~Rupert Murdoch

As with all politically lead governments, foreign investment is the slowest in the media section. Politicians are somewhat paranoid about the media but we still think it's worthwhile.

~Rupert Murdoch

I think you have a danger of regulating, putting regulations in place which will mean there will be no press in 10 years to regulate.

~Rupert Murdoch

Look, the whole world wants to modernize, and when you look to what they mean by modernizing, they mean Americanize. Would a modern Greek prefer to live in Orange County than Piraeus? Yes. Absolutely.

~Rupert Murdoch

We've got to lift our game tremendously. We'll sell our business news and information in print, we'll sell it to anyone who's got a cable system, and we'll sell it on the Web.

~Rupert Murdoch

We must have sweeping, generous immigration reform, make existing law-abiding Hispanics welcome. Most are hard working family people.

~Rupert Murdoch

When I hear something going wrong, I insist on it being put right.

~Rupert Murdoch

Why would I spend $5 billion for something in order to wreck it?

~Rupert Murdoch

If you want to judge my thinking, look at The Sun.

~Rupert Murdoch

CNN is pretty consistently on the left, if you look at their choice of stories, what they play up. It's not what they say. It's what they highlight.

~Rupert Murdoch

There is so much media now with the Internet and people, and so easy and so cheap to start a newspaper or start a magazine, there's just millions of voices and people want to be heard.

~Rupert Murdoch

My father left me with a clear sense that the media was something different.

~Rupert Murdoch

All forms of government ultimately are not going to succeed in trying to control or censor the Internet.

~Rupert Murdoch

If Boris [Johnson] backtracks on serious things there'll be another bloody revolt.

~Rupert Murdoch

While we reduce our own carbon footprint we will encourage the companies who truck our DVDs and newspapers, sell us paper, and provide an enormous range of products and services to all contribute.

~Rupert Murdoch

Imagine if we succeed in inspiring our audiences to reduce their own impacts on climate change by just 1 percent. That would be like turning the state of California off for almost two months.

~Rupert Murdoch

Climate change and energy use are global problems - News Corp is a global company. Our operations affect the environment all over the world.

~Rupert Murdoch

Most newspaper companies still have their heads in the sand, but other media companies are aggressive.

~Rupert Murdoch

Elections are when you have to make a choice. Perfection not often attainable!

~Rupert Murdoch

Endemic is a very hard, a very wide ranging word. I also have to be very careful not to prejudice the course of justice that is taking place now.

~Rupert Murdoch

I was absolutely shocked, appalled and ashamed when I heard about the Milly Dowler case only two weeks ago.

~Rupert Murdoch

The reality is that we've seen the last of any serious price wars for a long time. I don't think any of the others could afford it, certainly not on a long-term basis.

~Rupert Murdoch

Journalists should think of themselves as outside the Establishment, and owners can't be too worried about what they're told at their country clubs.

~Rupert Murdoch

Content is not just king, it is the emperor of all things electronic.

~Rupert Murdoch

Well, except for ABC, CBS, NBC, MSNBC, CNN, New York Times, the Washington Post, and about another 100 newspapers, I find little evidence of liberal bias in the media.

~Rupert Murdoch

If Hillary [Clinton] gets elected what she's promised to do with the [New York] banks is going to make London boom.

~Rupert Murdoch

I felt that it's best just to be as transparent as possible.

~Rupert Murdoch

I'm not an economist and we all know economists were created to make weather forecasters look good.

~Rupert Murdoch

The UK desperately needs less government and freer markets.

~Rupert Murdoch

Don't let's lose sight of what creates wealth. It is open markets, it is capitalism.

~Rupert Murdoch

Is there any other industry [than the press] in this country which seeks to presume so completely to give the customer what he does not want?

~Rupert Murdoch

I can go into restaurants and a whole table will get up and clap if they recognize me, because they love Fox News. Other places - or even the same place - people will turn the other way.

~Rupert Murdoch

Everybody at home speaks mandarin except me.

~Rupert Murdoch

I've operated and launched newspapers all over the world.

~Rupert Murdoch

I did not come all this way not to interfere

~Rupert Murdoch

For better or for worse, our company (The News Corporation Ltd.) is a reflection of my thinking, my character, my values.

~Rupert Murdoch

I have never asked a prime minister for anything.

~Rupert Murdoch

We have no intention of failing. The only question is how great a success we'll have.

~Rupert Murdoch

I've always been more interested in the content of our newspapers, political positions day to day, the thrill of communicating with people through words than I am in the pure business aspects.

~Rupert Murdoch

The current days of the Internet will soon be over.

~Rupert Murdoch

People are reading news for free on the web, that's got to change.
