Terrorists hate Americans. Indians hate each other. A terrorist will blow up an airport. Indians like to work at the airport. That would be counter-productive.

~Russell Peters

Self-worth and financial worth become indistinguishable.

~Russell Peters

I don't make the stereotypes, I just see them.

~Russell Peters

If you're politically correct, chances are you're not coming to one of my shows. I get to go onstage and say things that everybody thinks all the time, but can't say out loud.

~Russell Peters

Indians are the second largest population in the world, but we're invisible on TV - everything is either black or white.

~Russell Peters

I DJ and I'm a harsh critic of DJs.

~Russell Peters

I love being a dad, and I'm a great dad.

~Russell Peters

I have a phenomenal memory. I remember every single thing that anybody said to me, ever did to me, who was nice to me and who was not nice to me.

~Russell Peters

There's a big difference between race and culture. Because racially, I'm an Indian man. Culturally, not at all.

~Russell Peters

My dad was the funniest guy I ever knew.

~Russell Peters

I don't want to be a part of any Bollywood movie.

~Russell Peters

I will never stop doing stand-up; that's my career, but I will do movies in Hollywood.

~Russell Peters

I'm not just saying this, but I love everything about India.

~Russell Peters

I think for comedians, acting is their natural progression. It's all about progression.

~Russell Peters

I don't need Hollywood. With or without them, I'll be fine. But I'll admit it would be nice to have them on board.

~Russell Peters

Stand-up and boxing are very similar. You're the only one out there, you're going into a fight, and you're going in with a game plan.

~Russell Peters

Azhar Usman is very funny, deeply spiritual, and extremely hairy. He's like Zach Galifianakis meets Deepak Chopra-and funnier than you'd expect that combination to be.

~Russell Peters

I'm not a media darling. I'm forever the outsider, for whatever the reason is.

~Russell Peters

Who I am on stage is just an amped up version of who I am in real life.

~Russell Peters

I do a lot of cultural material that's based on my traveling around the world. I basically just report what I've seen and where I've been.
