If we have a thousand bamboo spears, there's nothing to worry about a war with the Soviet Union.

~Sadao Araki

Give me a Japanese division armed with bamboo spears and I'll wipe out the entire Russian Far Eastern Army.

~Sadao Araki

It is Japan's mission to be supreme in Asia, the South Seas and eventually the four corners of the world.

~Sadao Araki

Now the opportunity to destroy the USSR has arrived.

~Sadao Araki

According to our belief, Japan was founded by the Sun Goddess Amaterasu Omikami, who is revered by the entire nation for her all-pervading virtue, and from whom our Imperial House is descended.

~Sadao Araki

A war minister is able to force the adoption of any measure desired by the Camp or to block any measure that meets his disapproval.

~Sadao Araki

I ask you to remember that the Japanese troops are a strictly disciplined force and perform their duties with as little harmfulness as possible.

~Sadao Araki

Unless you remove the weeds, a good crop will be ruined.

~Sadao Araki

It is now time for our nation to frustrate the wild dreams of the whites.

~Sadao Araki

The foundations of our Empire are now based more firmly than ever!
The birth of a Crown Prince shows that the prosperity of the Imperial Household is increasing many times.

~Sadao Araki

Let the League of Nations say whatever it pleases, let America offer whatever interference, let China decry Japan's action at the top of her voice, but Japan must adhere to her course unswervingly.

~Sadao Araki

What sort of government is it that permits so many children to go to school hungry, without even a morsel of food in their stomachs? It cannot be! It must not be!

~Sadao Araki

We have no hesitation in declaring that we are a military nation- in the cause of Kodo and the highest morality.
