My parents are from Manchester but I was brought up in London, Camden Town.

~Sadie Frost

My style is scruffy with a touch of androgyny.

~Sadie Frost

I always wear flat shoes, because I can't walk in anything else.

~Sadie Frost

I've always been an animal lover. People should be made aware of all the issues. Some people think that the whole wearing-fur thing is glamorous, but you can look good without it.

~Sadie Frost

When you love someone so much that you are in pain when you are apart it ends up being destructive. I never want to be in that place again.

~Sadie Frost

I'm always the girl at the party who, within five minutes, has taken my heels off, hitched up my dress in my knickers, and probably spilt drink down my cleavage.

~Sadie Frost

I really fought to make my character not a stereotype. I play a soap star with dyed blonde hair.

~Sadie Frost

I'm playing a very strong character, it's the story of the woman Polish Jews out of the Warsaw ghetto. I've just begun my weapons training and the SAS type training that's getting me fit.

~Sadie Frost

At home it's all Batman and Star Wars and they do gang up on me. Sometimes I don't want to dress up as Darth Vader or play train sets, so I'll go out for a drink with the girls.

~Sadie Frost

I've never got into debt and I've always been in control of my taxes and VAT, but having four children costs a lot. They are my weakness.

~Sadie Frost

I find a lot of young filmmakers make too much of an effort to be trendy and they can be pretentious.

~Sadie Frost

If the kids did want to get into showbiz then so be it, but I would never project anything on to my children.

~Sadie Frost

My father was a painter and an anarchist, always getting in trouble for his performance art.

~Sadie Frost

Just to be remembered is good enough for me. Lots of people are forgotten.

~Sadie Frost

I've never worn fur, either. I'm a naturally squeamish person, and fur smells like dead animal to me.

~Sadie Frost

I haven't done an international film for a long time.

~Sadie Frost

It is so important that you don't stay with someone just for the children and for the wrong reasons.

~Sadie Frost

I love babies. I love being pregnant and I loved giving birth.

~Sadie Frost

I was fiercely independent and ambitious from a very young age.

~Sadie Frost

My childhood was colorfully anarchic and punctuated by a lot of change.

~Sadie Frost

I really enjoy making dinner for my kids and my husband - chopping ginger and marinating the tofu.

~Sadie Frost

Having money has given me a certain freedom, but being in the public eye has taken away a lot.

~Sadie Frost

By 17, I was modeling and had bought myself a flat. I've always tried to be self-sufficient.

~Sadie Frost

I don't like it when people don't act on their words.

~Sadie Frost

I've had four children and I've done a good job and I'm happy in life.

~Sadie Frost

I was a very defiant child, and my father encouraged that. He wanted me to be as wild and creative as possible and didn't believe in disciplining children.

~Sadie Frost

I'm the kind of person who'll have a few drinks and fall asleep at 11.

~Sadie Frost

From 16 years old, I wanted to have a baby, that's all I wanted.

~Sadie Frost

If I am in London I like a quick get away to The Olde Bell in Hurley It's nearby and no stress - great food and beautiful walks.

~Sadie Frost

I've concentrated for a long time on English films because I've got two kids but my oldest son is 11 and I think I'm going to be away for about four months of year now.

~Sadie Frost

My kids inspire me to be the person I am today - without them I wouldn't be who I am today.
