

Sally Hawkins

Quotes

Character, People, Thinking, Play, Fun, Mean, Writing, Worry, Knees, School, Film, Acting, Dad, Strong, Doe, Clothes, Girl, Falling In Love, Fall, Actors

You only do good work when you're taking risks and pushing yourself.

~Sally Hawkins

I sort of fall in love with every character I do; you have to understand how they became what they've become, whether they're the ugly kind or the very beautiful kinds of characters.

~Sally Hawkins

You think that adulthood will hit and you'll suddenly be more capable. But that doesn't happen, ever, does it?

~Sally Hawkins

My knees buckled. It's the last thing I expected

~Sally Hawkins

My feet are like something from another age - prehistoric and troll-like. I keep expecting them to talk, they have that much character.

~Sally Hawkins

I love acting but I also love writing, especially comedy.

~Sally Hawkins

You can't be a woman and not be a feminist, I don't think. If you care about the world and the world you exist in and your rights.

~Sally Hawkins

I'll try and get through as much as my voice and nerves and knees will let me.

~Sally Hawkins

I never come away from a film thinking I nailed it.

~Sally Hawkins

I love disappearing. That's what acting is. For me it's about putting on a persona, stepping into a pair of shoes. It's my face, but I'm using it as a tool for that spirit, that character.

~Sally Hawkins

I'm quite an optimist, quite happy in life, quite smiley.

~Sally Hawkins

I remember once giving my dad some drawings and writings and said, 'If you could just give these to the publisher, that would be great.' And I was about five!

~Sally Hawkins

I loved working with kids, and kids are the most incredibly discerning audience. And if they don't believe you, they will tell you and let you know. I mean, kids is where it's at, really.

~Sally Hawkins

I grew up with 'Jane Eyre,' reading it at school, and it's one of those, I think, for a lot of women, a lot of girls, it's the iconic story and so many girls relate to Jane Eyre and her character.

~Sally Hawkins

My parents have a strong work ethic, but their attitude to life, their philosophy, is: 'whatever makes you happy.'

~Sally Hawkins

You always want your films to go as far as they can.

~Sally Hawkins

I do worry about young people in the business who have experienced a lot of success and are punted around doing those manic publicity trails, when you don't really know who you are yet.

~Sally Hawkins

I don't wear bright orange clothes or leopard skin boots, but it was really good fun to play someone that does and have an excuse too!

~Sally Hawkins

Related Links:

- Character Quotes
- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Play Quotes
- Fun Quotes
- Mean Quotes
- Writing Quotes
- Worry Quotes
- Knees Quotes
- School Quotes
- Film Quotes
- Acting Quotes
- Dad Quotes
- Strong Quotes
- Doe Quotes
- Clothes Quotes
- Girl Quotes
- Falling In Love Quotes
- Fall Quotes
- Actors Quotes