

Sandra Scarr

Quotes

Children, Mother, Baby, Thinking, Work, Parent, Running, Views, Attachment, Individual Differences, Hangover, Past, Husband, Growing Up, Father, Fashion, Poor Quality, Two, Education, Moving

Babies need social interactions with loving adults who talk with them, listen to their babblings, name objects for them, and give them opportunities to explore their worlds.

~Sandra Scarr

A healthy newborn has been delivered in a more or less satisfying fashion. The baby is feeding well, has short nails and a clean bottom, and has not drowned. What now?

~Sandra Scarr

Parents sometimes think of newborns as helpless creatures, but in fact parents' behavior is much more under the infant's control than the reverse. Does he come running when you cry?

~Sandra Scarr

All we know is that the school achievement, IQ test score, and emotional and social development of working mothers' children are every bit as good as that of children whose mothers do not work.

~Sandra Scarr

Related Links:

- Children Quotes
- Mother Quotes
- Baby Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Work Quotes
- Parent Quotes
- Running Quotes
- Views Quotes
- Attachment Quotes
- Individual Differences Quotes
- Hangover Quotes
- Past Quotes
- Husband Quotes
- Growing Up Quotes
- Father Quotes
- Fashion Quotes
- Poor Quality Quotes
- Two Quotes
- Education Quotes
- Moving Quotes