The worst moment in my life was when I was seven years old and I discovered that there was a thing such as racism. You don't know you're different until someone lets you know.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

Both my parents were migrant workers who came to the U.K. in the Fifties to better themselves. The culture I grew up in was to work hard, save hard and to look after your family.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

There are occasions when I've had beef, but I generally tend to avoid it, as a nod towards my parents' culture.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

Good drama, challenging drama - and comedy for that matter - has a place in the daytime schedule.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

It is better to give blood but receive cash than the other way around.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

The Kumars... played on five continents, and even when I came up with the idea I was slightly surprised that no one else had.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

During an early performance of 'Spamalot,' I left my regal gloves in the fridge to cool down and didn't remember them until I was on stage. They needed to be thawed overnight.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

I might do a fitness video. Actually, more of a fatness video.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

I am officially a doctor, and believe it or not, I can save lives and tune certain instruments and can beat peasants with a stick.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

I make terrible jokes every time I go into a hospital. I think it's a defence mechanism.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

I was far too embarrassed to share the experience of Indian food at school. As a kid, you're desperate to fit in, to assimilate in some way, and everything about me stood out.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

Michael Bates was a very funny actor; he'd served in India, could speak Urdu, and had great comic timing.

~Sanjeev Bhaskar

I love team sports - they give me something to focus on rather than the fact that I can't breathe or my muscles are aching.
